SIRENS OPEN WAR BOND SALE AT NOON TODAY!

$225 war bonds offered as prizes to bond salesmen

OCD adds impetus to workers to do job quick, thorough

Perhaps no impetus is needed among the patriotic Arlington Heights men and women who are charged with the responsibility of putting over the 3rd war bond sale, but in order that the job is done quickly and thoroughly and that no person or family be missed within the respective territory of any worker, the local OCD has hung up five bond prizes.

The first prize will be a $100 war bond, second $50 bond and the third, fourth and fifth prizes will be a $25 war bond each. The OCD council authorized the prizes at a meeting held Tuesday evening. The rules governing the basis on which they will be awarded have not been formulated by the time the Herald goes to press, but will be ready for announcement at the meeting of workers this Thursday evening.

The awarding of the prizes will be handled by the following committee: Mayor Goedke, chairman; Geo. K. Volz, Virginia Dodge, Arthur Franzen and Walter Krause, Jr.

Baby clinic at Arlington Heights next Tuesday

Mothers and fathers with babies less than two years of age are invited to bring them to the Well Baby Clinic, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Health Committee, to be held at the Arlington Heights Health Center located in the Village Hall, Wing and Vail sts., between the hours of 1:30 and 3:00 p. m. on Tuesday, September 14.

Examinations of the babies will be made by Dr. B. T. Best, assisted by Mrs. Clara A. Lund, registered nurse in charge of the Health Center. The Arlington Heights Health Center is affiliated with The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county.

"As its name implies, the 'well baby clinic' is designed to keep well babies well," Mrs. Lund explained. "Each child who is brought to the clinic is weighed, measured for height and given a general check-up by the physician. Mothers are free to ask any questions regarding their child's health, and seek advice on feeding and home care of infants."

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, the memory of our heroic dead and the names of our valiant warriors fighting for a righteous cause are fresh in the minds of every citizen; and

WHEREAS, in honor of these dead, and in order that the living may avenge their loss, it is necessary to provide vast materials of war; and

WHEREAS, the United States Treasury Department will inaugurate the Third War Loan Drive on September 9, 1943, in order that adequate supplies may be purchased for the further successful prosecution of this war; and

WHEREAS, it is appropriate and timely that citizens be provided the Third War Loan Drive by giving emphatic notice that the people of this community are banded together for victory.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Albert Goedke, Mayor of the Village of Arlington Heights, do urge that all factory whistles, Civilian Defense air raid sirens, whistles, church bells, auto horns, and all other noise making instruments be sounded for two minutes, commencing at noon, Thursday, September 9, 1943, thus carrying notice to all citizens that our government asks us to purchase an extra war bond to "back the attack." I do also urge that the Stars and Stripes be flown on September 9 from all public establishments and private homes, as an appropriate manifestation of Arlington Heights patriotism and will to win.

Dated this 9th day of September, A. D. 1943.

ALBERT GOEDKE, Mayor

Brothers are caddy champs at Rolling Green

The Griffith boys, caddies at the Rolling Green Country club, Arlington Heights, carried away both A and B class caddy-tournament trophies at the golf finals Friday, Sept. 3.

Allen Griffith, 14, won the "A" trophy and his brother, Harry, 11, won the B trophy. Tommy Griffith, who was eliminated earlier in the month, served as caddy for Allen in the finals.

The caddy golf contest runs for a month under the pro, Pat McDonald. It is he who will award the prizes to the boys about Sept. 15. He says, "Right now I've my eye on a pair of cups, but I'll shop around a bit first."

Although few club members were there, Pat reported that the gallery of fellow-caddies numbered at least 75 when the finals were played off. The finalists in both classes were Arlington Heights boys.

Allen beat John Shanley in 36 holes, five and four. Harry took Emmett MacDougall three and two.

On Wednesday, Sept. 1, the club members had a dinner for all of the caddies at the club. According to Pat, "it was a big dinner" which seems especially significant in these days. Gifts of clubs, shirts and other clothing were given the boys.

Public schools open with 573 pupils

Dorothy Sodt is principal of north school

A happy lot of children started back to school on Tuesday morning and found waiting for them carefully prepared and attractive buildings, and an excellent teaching staff ready to teach them the three R's and extra curricular studies.

The school enrollment in the south building showed a total of 203 pupils, and the enrollment in the north school was 370.

Miss Dorothy Sodt has been appointed as the principal of the north building and will also teach mathematics and domestic science. Miss Sodt is starting her eighteenth year here and is well known and greatly admired by students, teachers and patrons. She is located in an office at the north end of the second floor, formerly occupied by Mrs. Andrews.

Mr. John Dean has been secured as the teacher of shop and art. He is a graduate of Pratt Institute, where he received his bachelor degree, and taught last year in Maryland. He comes highly recommended as a shop teacher, and has written a book on leather craft which is being published by the Bruce Publishing Co. of Milwaukee.

During the summer months, both buildings have been freshened with paint where necessary, and present an attractive and pleasant atmosphere for the returning students. New cupboards placed at convenient locations have been added.

The books in the school library have been reclassified, and arranged alphabetically according to author and subject.

A make up and stage room has been equipped for Mrs. Andrews back of the stage, and is attractively decorated in yellow and blue.

Black linoleum has been mounted in the washrooms, back of the wash basins and in the kitchen and is as pleasing to look at as it is sensible.

Closed in cafeteria shelves have been built to take care of the surplus supplies, and also allow room for extra book storage space.

The grounds of both schools have been prepared for play, with gravel spread for play space, baseball diamonds, graded and basketball and baseball backstops set up. Beautifully cared for lawns, and fall flowers also add to the attractiveness of the buildings.

Arlington Heights parents can be indeed proud of their schools.

Martha Jackson, first health nurse, dies

Word was received in Arlington Heights Tuesday evening of the death of Miss Martha Jackson, who passed away at 10 p. m. on Monday evening. The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Fenntag Funeral home at Huckamer st., in Joliet, Ill.

Miss Jackson served as Arlington Heights community nurse here for 14 years, and her cordial friendly manner and sincere interest in everyone, endeared her to the entire town, and made her a most successful community nurse.

It was the exceptional quality of her service which made her work here so outstanding, and which gave to the village a dental clinic, which she worked hard to establish. She became personally acquainted with every baby which arrived in Arlington Heights, and watched them grow and thrive at the Infant Welfare, which she served during her many years here. She continued her interest in children right through their school careers and afterwards. Her influence on the health habits of the youth of this town, have shown definite results in the dental and physical hygiene of its young people.

She organized the Nurses club, was a charter member of the Mother's club, an active member of the Methodist church and its missionary society. In fact her life was made up of days of active service.

She left Arlington Heights to serve as community nurse at Downers Grove, and it was there she was taken ill. For the past two years she has been a semi-invalid, in the home of her brother at Joliet. This spring she became a patient in the Rest home here, and again had the pleasant opportunity of renewing old friendships and in making new ones, in the town which had come to mean so much to her.

She is survived by two brothers, a sister-in-law and a nephew, David, who is in the service.

Arlington sends 20,000 smokes to servicemen

First month's donations to "cigarettes to the soldiers" campaign in Arlington Heights netted enough for 20,000 smokes, it was revealed this week. The cigarettes were sent in 10,000 bunches to the Aleutians and to Sicily.

Thirty-five bottles have been placed in various business houses of Arlington by the local American Legion post. Donations in any amount are accepted, all of them to apply towards free cigarettes for the servicemen.

The legion cannot designate any special camps to receive the cigarettes, but can designate certain battle areas. The next month's cigarettes will probably be sent to the Solomons and Italy, both areas where local servicemen are, or probably will be, in action.

Included in each pack is the designation "Greetings from Arlington Heights." Also included in each 10,000 shipment are 50 acknowledgement cards urging the soldiers to write the benefactor towns. Acknowledgement cards are also sent the local legion post when the cigarettes are put on convoy, when they arrive at their destination, and when they are received by the commanding officer of the receiving group.

Pay tributes to memory of nurse

The Herald believes that no higher tribute can be paid to the memory of Miss Jackson, Arlington Heights first community nurse than those given below. They are only a few of the ones that could have been obtained, had space permitted.

Mayor Goedke

"The passing of Martha E. Jackson re-emphasizes the community less first apparent when circumstances dictated the relinquishing of her position as the Arlington Heights Community Nurse. Truly a martyr to her profession she maintained her sunny disposition to the end. Evidence of her keen sense of humor was her recent reference to her wheel chair as her "Packard" accompanied by a sparkle in her eyes that revealed her joy in being back amongst friends. Miss Jackson will live long in memories of Arlington Heights."

A. M. Conger, Principal

"Miss Jackson was always available for investigation of cases requiring assistance and advice. During the depression she gave much of her salary for the relief of needy children who were without adequate clothing. Many of the young people of Arlington Heights have had corrective measures taken regaring their eyes, teeth, hearing, or general health, because of her untiring efforts in their behalf. Few people are as unselfishly devoted to a cause as was Miss Jackson."

C. E. McWharter

President, Board of Education

"Miss Martha Jackson was most sympathetic to human needs. Charitable. Untiring. Always with a kindly smile and a pleasant attitude, she did a most efficient job as school and village nurse. A host of friends will retain fond memory of Miss Jackson for a great many years."

Adele Pino

"Community nursing as we know it today, was fairly new when Miss Jackson started her work in Arlington Heights. Hard work, unflinching devotion and loyalty were necessary in establishing a firm foundation for the nursing program and all this and more Miss Jackson gave so that nurses who follow her are able to carry on the work more easily and effectively. As her successor, I pay tribute to an excellent nurse for a job nobly done."

Rev. H. C. Fricke

"The passing of Miss Martha Jackson removes from this troubled earth a true humanitarian, that is, a lover of men. Her love for men was not merely expressed in beautiful words, but she revealed her big loving heart in concrete deeds of service. She went in and out amongst us like a ministering angel doing good unsparingly to the priviledged and underprivileged. In her ministrations she went beyond the stipulated duties of her position.

"Martha Jackson was much more than a community nurse. She became all things to all men as the circumstances required—a friend to the friendless, an advisor to the perplexed, a comforter of the sorrowing, and a mother to all who needed mothering.

"I have an indelible mental picture of our energetic community nurse, rosy-cheeked, sparkling eyes, talkative, bubbling over with unfailing good spirits, rushing about from one errand of service to the next. In her case we can say truly, when her Maker called her, she left her world a little brighter and happier at the end of her road."

Dr. Meisenheimer

"I shall always think of Miss Jackson as the tireless worker, offering her solace and aid to the less fortunate. Her firm conviction and ceaseless vigilance made her an outstanding person in her profession."

Sister Judea

"Miss Jackson will ever be remembered by the pupils and teachers of St. James school because of her whole-hearted faithfulness to duty and her friendliness to all. We deeply regret her passing."

Dr. E. A. Elfeld

"Miss Jackson was a resident of Arlington Heights for thirteen years. She was a hard worker and faithful. She devoted her time and ability not only to the school children, but to the public at large. She left here reluctantly, but her heart remained in Arlington Heights."

Irene Russell
(South School)

"The story of the days of Miss Jackson's long period of service in Arlington Heights, would fill many pages. She carried out her health programs in all the schools with a cheeriness that made her the friend of every child and helped them to realize the value of health habits.

"I am sure that all the teachers feel that knowing and working with Miss Jackson, has given them inspiration and happiness that will not fade."

George Kleha

"Miss Martha Jackson was a wonderful woman and while serving as our community nurse, was a hard and conscientious worker, often giving aid to the sick and those in distress when she should have been resting."

The 3rd War Loan

Theme: Invasion.

Slogan: "Back the Attack with War Bonds."

Goal: Fifteen "Billion" Dollars.

1/3 of this quota is assigned to individuals.

2/3 of this quota is assigned to Business, Associations and Insurance Co.

The idea of the arrangement being that the money is to be taken out of funds that otherwise would go for IDLE spending. Unnecessary spending is being discouraged.

Important Facts:

100 Billion dollars are spent yearly to run the war, in order that our democratic way of life may be preserved.

The following facts help to understand this large figure.

600 dollars are spent daily for each man, woman and child in America.

Members of the War Saving Staff will soon be calling on their neighbors in order that they may fulfill their responsibility toward the government. The personal response of every American to this "Back the Attack" Drive, should be to buy all the bonds possible. By so doing, he will not only be saving for himself, but helping the same cause for which all service men stand pledged, to give the last full measure of devotion.

The patriotic service of these neighbors who assist in the drive should be appreciated. They are voluntarily giving of their time and energy and are representatives of the U. S. Treasury Dept. Surely their efforts are worthy of courteous consideration from all those they call upon.

"Buy Bonds! Back the Attack!"

Workers meet tonight to get full supplies

"It's a big job, but we can do it"

—G. K. VOLZ, CHAIRMAN

Sirens, whistles and bells this Thursday noon will usher in the 3rd war bond campaign in Arlington Heights. "It will resemble Armistice Day in 1918," says Chairman Geo. K. Volz, "and if it is successful bring about another armistice day in 1943 or '44."

Assurances have been received by the local bond drive committee that every church bell, all sirens, factory whistles and other alarms will be sounded for a period of two minutes.

The U. S. treasury department claims that 17% of the people in villages and 27% of those on farms in the United States were not aware of the occasion of the 2nd war loan drive. Arlington Heights committee has given its pledge that not a home or farm within the Arlington area will be missed in the present drive.

"The quota of $170,000 for Arlington Heights is no small amount, but we are going to do it," says Mrs. H. G. Day, who is co-chairman and in charge of the women organizations.

Local OCD air raid wardens, who have been asked to solicit their respective territories in the interest of the bond sale, will meet this Thursday evening to receive supplies and final instructions.

New victories in Europe for the allies were made possible by the thorough preparations made by our government. Such preparations take money as well as the lives of many of our men. The boys on the front are doing their part.

Dad's Club presents an Aviation Night

On Wednesday, Sept. 15, at 8 p. m., the Arlington Heights community is invited to a program to be presented by the Dad's club at the Arlington Heights Township high school.

The program has been arranged in part through the cooperation of Mr. John Weaver, manager of the Chicago plant of the Douglas Aircraft Company.

Two moving pictures will be presented. "Parachute School" is a picture depicting the process of training which our boys go thru to enable them to wear the insignia of the paratrooper. "Airborne Mission," the second picture describes the planning and the execution of an invasion of a country by air. In this picture it is shown how troops effect a landing, seize strategic points and occupy a given area. These two unusual pictures should be of vast interest to everyone, especially those having a son or a friend in the service of our country.

Lt. Col. George Malcolm, U. S. Marine Corps, will give a short talk relative to the training of young men in the service of the U. S. Navy and Marine Corps. Col. Malcolm was commissioned and received his wings during World War No. 1 and has had an untold wealth of experience in aviation cadets.

Dr. Matthew Faithe, who teaches History and Aeronautics in the Arlington Heights Township high school, has been asked to present the concluding talk of the evening and has chosen the subject, "The Old Order Changeth." Dr. Faithe has during the past summer, attended New York University thru a scholarship awarded him by the United Air Lines. Dr. Faithe is a licensed pilot and his studies this summer included courses in Aerodynamics, Navigation, Meteorology, Engines, and Air Commerce Regulations. It is believed that from the subject of his talk and his experiences everyone will receive a rare treat.

The complete program will last approximately one and one half hours. It is an unusual and snappy program which is designed to interest school children as well as adults.

Remember—all this is free.

Wish new chairmen success in drive

In presenting their recent resignations as chairmen and co-chairmen of the local war bond committee, N. M. Lattof and Mrs. G. Rex Volz are giving their moral support to the new drive and to the men and women upon whom the responsibility rest for the success of the present drive. Both Mr. Lattof and Mrs. Volz did a good job on the occasion of the previous drives. They are confident that Arlington Heights people will again show their loyalty and that the present sale with its enlarged quota, will be even more successful than ever. Mrs. Geo. Tuttle was also one of the active workers of the older organization, serving as secretary.

From private to first lieutenant in 17 months

Anthony Scolaro, Arlington Heights, who refused an opportunity to take officers training and entered the army in March, 1942, as a private in the air corps became a first lieutenant, seventeen months later. The promotion order dated August 24, was received by Lt. Scolaro recently upon his return from a 10,000 mile overseas trip of two weeks. Scolaro was a lawyer before entering service. He is in the troop carrier command.

Women firemen are 'champs' in water fight

Waterfights at the Firemen's carnival celebrated their second birthday last week-end, to the delight of all. According to Fire Chief Jahn, "Those waterfights are going to be a regular thing from now on."

The climax came Monday evening when a comedy number was presented by the local men dressed as women. How "Big Mike" Dobbins corralled their feminine costumes is a mystery, especially with the present shortages.

However, he, John Firnbach, Harold Schad, and Frank Jahn, escorted by Paul Incaprero's goat, fought the Vernon waterfight team. The match was judged before it began, according to Frank Jahn. His father who had ruled on the contest, declined to say anything.

Much splashing

In short, the "Local Ladies" trounced the Vernon team by squirting the coffee tin away across the mark. Much splashing attended this event, but it is safe to state that the goat was returned to its owner unharmed and undampened.

Frank Jahn's knit apparel suffered in the encounter. It shrank to such an extent that even masculine calm was embarrassed. Another teammate, unfortunate enough to get between "Big Mike" and whatever he was aiming the hose at, found a huge column of water coming from the neck of his dress.

As Fire chief Jahn said, "It was a strenuous time — we might have been caught flatfooted if an alarm had been rung in today — the day after."

Alex Lips did his part for the costume event by arriving in an 1800 model fireman's uniform, complete with trimmings which he added to suit his own taste.

Regular fights

Other water fights to eliminate contestants were:

Saturday — Lake Zurich beat Bensenville; Long Grove beat Barrington.

Sunday — Auxiliary Firemen beat Poole Garage; Palatine beat Mt. Prospect; Vernon beat Des Plaines.

Monday — Vernon beat Palatine; Lake Zurich beat Long Grove; Vernon beat Lake Zurich.

Vernon was the final winner until opposed by the "Local Ladies." How this outcome is received in Vernon is not known, but Arlington Heights considers itself covered with glory, and justifiably.

Refreshments

The truth of the coffee-making has come out. It was Mrs. Luehring who had charge of this important beverage, and she did a fine job. Her husband's reluctance to tell which of the 'Ladies' Aid members was to brew the java still cannot be understood.

Next to the water fights, the refreshments received the greatest attention. The Ladies Aid found their stock sold out each night by 10 p. m. Just so remember those ham sandwiches and frankfurters, cakes and pop makes your mouth water.

Prizes

Cedar chest to W. C. Hartman—No. 2244.

Floor lamp to Kebe Motor Service—No. 1109.

Occasional chair to Gen. Sherman—No. 1368.

Ottoman to L. Pomplum—No. 441.

End table to Mrs. A. Otto—No. 753.

Card table to W. Harz—No. 2237

Bath rug to Mrs. W. Rath—No. 891.

The annual event was the most successful of any in recent years. Net returns will be announced in a subsequent issue of the Herald.

Mt. Prospect a suburb of Arlington?

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milligan moved from Oak Park to 515 S. I-Oka, Mt. Prospect thinking they had purchased a home in Arlington Heights. However, Mrs. Milligan is so pleased with the house, that she didn't object to finding herself in Mt. Prospect.

Mr. Milligan is chief combustion engineer with the Crerar Klinch Coal Co., which is associated with Peabody coal. The Milligans have two daughters.

The elder, Virginia, is enrolled as a senior in the Arlington Heights high school, Betty Jean will go to sixth grade in Mt. Prospect.

Ask women to sign 'home front' pledges

Is only way to keep prices down says ration board

The cost of living can be forced down in a hurry if every buyer signs a Home Front pledge is the belief of the OPA, in its announcement of the campaign to stabilize prices on levels of Sept. 15, 1942. Chester Bowles, OPA Deputy Price administrator says, "We will do this faster than most people think. The cost of living wil drop this month, and plans we are considering will give further decreases."

The Home Front pledge covers four points specifically. Those who take the pledge promise:

To help distribute rationed goods fairly.

To help hold down the cost of living.

To help eliminate black markets.

To bring violations to the attention of the War Price and Rationing Board.

Window stickers will be given all homemakers, businessmen, and other individuals who purchase rationed goods. Local ration boards have these available at their office now.

Larger posters for stores who pledge themselves to the drive are also going to be distributed. It is through distributor-consumer cooperation that the Home Front campaign to keep prices down will succeed.

C. H. Mills, chairman of the Arlington Heights Price panel, and E. H. Malzahn, chairman of the local board, agree that Arlington Heights has been on its "best behavior," but that campaign interest will strengthen ceilings.

SIRENS OPEN WAR BOND SALE AT NOON TODAY!

$225 war bonds offered as prizes to bond salesmen

OCD adds impetus to workers to do job quick, thorough

Perhaps no impetus is needed among the patriotic Arlington Heights men and women who are charged with the responsibility of putting over the 3rd war bond sale, but in order that the job is done quickly and thoroughly and that no person or family be missed within the respective territory of any worker, the local OCD has hung up five bond prizes.

The first prize will be a $100 war bond, second $50 bond and the third, fourth and fifth prizes will be a $25 war bond each. The OCD council authorized the prizes at a meeting held Tuesday evening. The rules governing the basis on which they will be awarded have not been formulated by the time the Herald goes to press, but will be ready for announcement at the meeting of workers this Thursday evening.

The awarding of the prizes will be handled by the following committee: Mayor Goedke, chairman; Geo. K. Volz, Virginia Dodge, Arthur Franzen and Walter Krause, Jr.

Baby clinic at Arlington Heights next Tuesday

Mothers and fathers with babies less than two years of age are invited to bring them to the Well Baby Clinic, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Health Committee, to be held at the Arlington Heights Health Center located in the Village Hall, Wing and Vail sts., between the hours of 1:30 and 3:00 p. m. on Tuesday, September 14.

Examinations of the babies will be made by Dr. B. T. Best, assisted by Mrs. Clara A. Lund, registered nurse in charge of the Health Center. The Arlington Heights Health Center is affiliated with The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county.

"As its name implies, the 'well baby clinic' is designed to keep well babies well," Mrs. Lund explained. "Each child who is brought to the clinic is weighed, measured for height and given a general check-up by the physician. Mothers are free to ask any questions regarding their child's health, and seek advice on feeding and home care of infants."

During the summer months, both buildings have been freshened with paint where necessary, and present an attractive and pleasant atmosphere for the returning students. New cupboards placed at convenient locations have been added.

The books in the school library have been reclassified, and arranged alphabetically according to author and subject.

A make up and stage room has been equipped for Mrs. Andrews back of the stage, and is attractively decorated in yellow and blue.

Black linoleum has been mounted in the washrooms, back of the wash basins and in the kitchen and is as pleasing to look at as it is sensible.

Closed in cafeteria shelves have been built to take care of the surplus supplies, and also allow room for extra book storage space.

The grounds of both schools have been prepared for play, with gravel spread for play space, baseball diamonds, graded and basketball and baseball backstops set up. Beautifully cared for lawns, and fall flowers also add to the attractiveness of the buildings.

Arlington Heights parents can be indeed proud of their schools.

Mt. Prospect a suburb of Arlington?

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milligan moved from Oak Park to 515 S. I-Oka, Mt. Prospect thinking they had purchased a home in Arlington Heights. However, Mrs. Milligan is so pleased with the house, that she didn't object to finding herself in Mt. Prospect.

Mr. Milligan is chief combustion engineer with the Crerar Klinch Coal Co., which is associated with Peabody coal. The Milligans have two daughters.

The elder, Virginia, is enrolled as a senior in the Arlington Heights high school. Betty Jean will go to sixth grade in Mt. Prospect.

Martha Jackson, first health nurse, dies

Word was received in Arlington Heights Tuesday evening of the death of Miss Martha Jackson, who passed away at 10 p. m. on Monday evening. The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Fenntag Funeral home at Huckamer st., in Joliet, Ill.

Miss Jackson served as Arlington Heights community nurse here for 14 years, and her cordial friendly manner and sincere interest in everyone, endeared her to the entire town, and made her a most successful community nurse.

It was the exceptional quality of her service which made her work here so outstanding, and which gave to the village a dental clinic, which she worked hard to establish. She became personally acquainted with every baby which arrived in Arlington Heights, and watched them grow and thrive at the Infant Welfare, which she served during her many years here. She continued her interest in children right through their school careers and afterwards. Her influence on the health habits of the youth of this town, have shown definite results in the dental and physical hygiene of its young people.

She organized the Nurses club, was a charter member of the Mother's club, an active member of the Methodist church and its missionary society. In fact her life was made up of days of active service.

She left Arlington Heights to serve as community nurse at Downers Grove, and it was there she was taken ill. For the past two years she has been a semi-invalid, in the home of her brother at Joliet. This spring she became a patient in the Rest home here, and again had the pleasant opportunity of renewing old friendships and in making new ones, in the town which had come to mean so much to her.

She is survived by two brothers, a sister-in-law and a nephew, David, who is in the service.

Arlington sends 20,000 smokes to servicemen

First month's donations to "cigarettes to the soldiers" campaign in Arlington Heights netted enough for 20,000 smokes, it was revealed this week. The cigarettes were sent in 10,000 bunches to the Aleutians and to Sicily.

Thirty-five bottles have been placed in various business houses of Arlington by the local American Legion post. Donations in any amount are accepted, all of them to apply towards free cigarettes for the servicemen.

The legion cannot designate any special camps to receive the cigarettes, but can designate certain battle areas. The next month's cigarettes will probably be sent to the Solomons and Italy, both areas where local servicemen are, or probably will be, in action.

Included in each pack is the designation "Greetings from Arlington Heights." Also included in each 10,000 shipment are 50 acknowledgement cards urging the soldiers to write the benefactor towns. Acknowledgement cards are also sent the local legion post when the cigarettes are put on convoy, when they arrive at their destination, and when they are received by the commanding officer of the receiving group.

Pay tributes to memory of nurse

The Herald believes that no higher tribute can be paid to the memory of Miss Jackson, Arlington Heights first community nurse than those given below. They are only a few of the ones that could have been obtained, had space permitted.

Mayor Goedke

"The passing of Martha E. Jackson re-emphasizes the community loss first apparent when circumstances dictated the relinquishing of her position as the Arlington Heights Community Nurse. Truly a martyr to her profession she maintained her sunny disposition to the end. Evidence of her keen sense of humor was her recent reference to her wheel chair as her "Packard" accompanied by a sparkle in her eyes that revealed her joy in being back amongst friends. Miss Jackson will live long in memories of Arlington Heights."

A. M. Conger, Principal

"Miss Jackson was always available for investigation of cases requiring assistance and advice. During the depression she gave much of her salary for the relief of needy children who were without adequate clothing. Many of the young people of Arlington Heights have had corrective measures taken regaring their eyes, teeth, hearing, or general health, because of her untiring efforts in their behalf. Few people are as unselfishly devoted to a cause as was Miss Jackson."

C. E. McWharter
President Board of Education

"Miss Martha Jackson was most sympathetic to human needs. Charitable. Untiring. Always with a kindly smile and a pleasant attitude, she did a most efficient job as school and village nurse. A host of friends will retain fond memory of Miss Jackson for a great many years."

Adele Pino

"Community nursing as we know it today, was fairly new when Miss Jackson started her work in Arlington Heights. Hard work, unflinching devotion and loyalty were necessary in establishing a firm foundation for the nursing program and all this and more Miss Jackson gave so that nurses who follow her are able to carry on the work more easily and effectively. As her successor, I pay tribute to an excellent nurse for a job nobly done."

Rev. H. C. Fricke

"The passing of Miss Martha Jackson removes from this troubled earth a true humanitarian, that is, a lover of men. Her love for men was not merely expressed in beautiful words, but she revealed her big loving heart in concrete deeds of service. She went in and out amongst us like a ministering angel doing good unsparingly to the priviledged and underprivileged. In her ministrations she went beyond the stipulated duties of her position.

"Martha Jackson was much more than a community nurse. She became all things to all men as the circumstances required—a friend to the friendless, an advisor to the perplexed, a comforter of the sorrowing, and a mother to all who needed mothering.

"I have an indelible mental picture of our energetic community nurse, rosy-cheeked, sparkling eyes, talkative, bubbling over with unfailing good spirits, rushing about from one errand of service to the next. In her case we can say truly, when her Maker called her, she left her world a little brighter and happier at the end of her road."

Dr. Meisenheimer

"I shall always think of Miss Jackson as the tireless worker, offering her solace and aid to the less fortunate. Her firm conviction and ceaseless vigilance made her an outstanding person in her profession."

Sister Judea

"Miss Jackson will ever be remembered by the pupils and teachers of St. James school because of her whole-hearted faithfulness to duty and her friendliness to all. We deeply regret her passing."

Dr. E. A. Elfeld

"Miss Jackson was a resident of Arlington Heights for thirteen years. She was a hard worker and faithful. She devoted her time and ability not only to the school children, but to the public at large. She left here reluctantly, but her heart remained in Arlington Heights."

Irene Russell
(South School)

"The story of the days of Miss Jackson's long period of service in Arlington Heights, would fill many pages. She carried out her health programs in all the schools with a cheeriness that made her the friend of every child and helped them to realize the value of health habits.

"I am sure that all the teachers feel that knowing and working with Miss Jackson, has given them inspiration and happiness that will not fade."

George Klehm

"Miss Martha Jackson was a wonderful woman and while serving as our community nurse, was a hard and conscientious worker, often giving aid to the sick and those in distress when she should have been resting."

The 3rd War Loan

Theme: Invasion.

Goal: Fifteen "Billion" Dollars.

1/3 of this quota is assigned to individuals.

2/3 of this quota is assigned to Business, Associations and Insurance Co.

The idea of the arrangement being that the money is to be taken out of funds that otherwise would go for IDLE spending. Unnecessary spending is being discouraged.

Important Facts:

100 Billion dollars are spent yearly to run the war, in order that our democratic way of life may be preserved.

The following facts help to understand this large figure.

600 dollars are spent daily for each man, woman and child in America.

Members of the War Saving Staff will soon be calling on their neighbors in order that they may fulfill their responsibility toward the government. The personal response of every American to this "Back the Attack" Drive, should be to buy all the bonds possible. By so doing, he will not only be saving for himself, but helping the same cause for which all service men stand pledged, to give the last full measure of devotion.

The patriotic service of these neighbors who assist in the drive should be appreciated. They are voluntarily giving of their time and energy and are representatives of the U. S. Treasury Dept. Surely their efforts are worthy of courteous consideration from all those they call upon.

"Buy Bonds! Back the Attack!"

Dad's Club presents an Aviation Night

On Wednesday, Sept. 15, at 8 p. m., the Arlington Heights community is invited to a program to be presented by the Dad's club at the Arlington Heights Township high school.

The program has been arranged in part through the cooperation of Mr. John Weaver, manager of the Chicago plant of the Douglas Aircraft Company.

Two moving pictures will be presented. "Parachute School" is a picture depicting the process of training which our boys go thru to enable them to wear the insignia of the paratrooper. "Airborne Mission," the second picture describes the planning and the execution of an invasion of a country by air. In this picture it is shown how troops effect a landing, seize strategic points and occupy a given area. These two unusual pictures should be of vast interest to everyone, especially those having a son or a friend in the service of our country.

Lt. Col. George Malcolm, U. S. Marine Corps, will give a short talk relative to the training of young men in the service of the U. S. Navy and Marine Corps. Col. Malcolm was commissioned and received his wings during World War No. 1 and has had an untold wealth of experience in aviation cadets.

Dr. Matthew Faithe, who teaches History and Aeronautics in the Arlington Heights Township high school, has been asked to present the concluding talk of the evening and has chosen the subject, "The Old Order Changeth." Dr. Faithe has during the past summer, attended New York University thru a scholarship awarded him by the United Air Lines. Dr. Faithe is a licensed pilot and his studies this summer included courses in Aerodynamics, Navigation, Meteorology, Engines, and Air Commerce Regulations. It is believed that from the subject of his talk and his experiences everyone will receive a rare treat.

The complete program will last approximately one and one half hours. It is an unusual and snappy program which is designed to interest school children as well as adults.

Remember—all this is free.

Wish new chairmen success in drive

In presenting their recent resignations as chairmen and co-chairmen of the local war bond committee, N. M. Lattof and Mrs. G. Rex Volz are giving their moral support to the new drive and to the men and women upon whom the responsibility rest for the success of the present drive. Both Mr. Lattof and Mrs. Volz did a good job on the occasion of the previous drives. They are confident that Arlington Heights people will again show their loyalty and that the present sale with its enlarged quota, will be even more successful than ever. Mrs. Geo. Tuttle was also one of the active workers of the older organization, serving as secretary.

Workers meet tonight to get full supplies

—G. K. VOLZ, CHAIRMAN

Sirens, whistles and bells this Thursday noon will usher in the 3rd war bond campaign in Arlington Heights. "It will resemble Armistice Day in 1918," says Chairman Geo. K. Volz, "and if it is successful bring about another armistice day in 1943 or '44."

Assurances have been received by the local bond drive committee that every church bell, all sirens, factory whistles and other alarms will be sounded for a period of two minutes.

The U. S. treasury department claims that 17% of the people in villages and 27% of those on farms in the United States were not aware of the occasion of the 2nd war loan drive. Arlington Heights committee has given its pledge that not a home or farm within the Arlington area will be missed in the present drive.

"The quota of $170,000 for Arlington Heights is no small amount, but we are going to do it," says Mrs. H. G. Day, who is co-chairman and in charge of the women organizations.

Local OCD air raid wardens, who have been asked to solicit their respective territories in the interest of the bond sale, will meet this Thursday evening to receive supplies and final instructions.

New victories in Europe for the allies were made possible by the thorough preparations made by our government. Such preparations take money as well as the lives of many of our men. The boys on the front are doing their part.

From private to first lieutenant in 17 months

Anthony Scolaro, Arlington Heights, who refused an opportunity to take officers training and entered the army in March, 1942, as a private in the air corps became a first lieutenant, seventeen months later. The promotion order dated August 24, was received by Lt. Scolaro recently upon his return from a 10,000 mile overseas trip of two weeks. Scolaro was a lawyer before entering service. He is in the troop carrier command.

Women firemen are 'champs' in water fight

Waterfights at the Firemen's carnival celebrated their second birthday last week-end, to the delight of all. According to Fire Chief Jahn, "Those waterfights are going to be a regular thing from now on."

The climax came Monday evening when a comedy number was presented by the local men dressed as women. How "Big Mike" Dobbins corralled their feminine costumes is a mystery, especially with the present shortages.

However, he, John Firnbach, Harold Schad, and Frank Jahn, escorted by Paul Incaprero's goat, fought the Vernon waterfight team. The match was judged before it began, according to Frank Jahn. His father who had ruled on the contest, declined to say anything.

Much splashing

In short, the "Local Ladies" trounced the Vernon team by squirting the coffee tin away across the mark. Much splashing attended this event, but it is safe to state that the goat was returned to its owner unharmed and undampened.

Frank Jahn's knit apparel suffered in the encounter. It shrank to such an extent that even masculine calm was embarrassed. Another teammate, unfortunate enough to get between "Big Mike" and whatever he was aiming the hose at, found a huge column of water coming from the neck of his dress.

As Fire chief Jahn said, "It was a strenuous time — we might have been caught flatfooted if an alarm had been rung in today — the day after."

Alex Lips did his part for the costume event by arriving in an 1800 model fireman's uniform, complete with trimmings which he added to suit his own taste.

Regular fights

Other water fights to eliminate contestants were:

Saturday — Lake Zurich beat Bensenville; Long Grove beat Barrington.

Monday — Vernon beat Palatine; Lake Zurich beat Long Grove; Vernon beat Lake Zurich.

Vernon was the final winner until opposed by the "Local Ladies." How this outcome is received in Vernon is not known, but Arlington Heights considers itself covered with glory, and justifiably.

Refreshments

The truth of the coffee-making has come out. It was Mrs. Luehring who had charge of this important beverage, and she did a fine job. Her husband's reluctance to tell which of the 'Ladies' Aid members was to brew the java still cannot be understood.

Next to the water fights, the refreshments received the greatest attention. The Ladies Aid found their stock sold out each night by 10 p. m. Just to remember those ham sandwiches and frankfurters, cakes and pop makes your mouth water.

Prizes

Cedar chest to W. C. Hartman—No. 2244.

Floor lamp to Kehe Motor Service—No. 1109.

Occasional chair to Gen. Sherman—No. 1368.

Ottoman to L. Pomplum—No. 441.

End table to Mrs. A. Otto—No. 753.

Card table to W. Harz—No. 2237

Bath rug to Mrs. W. Rath—No. 891.

The annual event was the most successful of any in recent years. Net returns will be announced in a subsequent issue of the Herald.

Ask women to sign 'home front' pledges

Is only way to keep prices down says ration board

The cost of living can be forced down in a hurry if every buyer signs a Home Front pledge is the belief of the OPA, in its announcement of the campaign to stabilize prices on levels of Sept. 15, 1942. Chester Bowles, OPA Deputy Price administrator says, "We will do this faster than most people think. The cost of living wil drop this month, and plans we are considering will give further decreases."

The Home Front pledge covers four points specifically. Those who take the pledge promise:

To help distribute rationed goods fairly.

To help hold down the cost of living.

To help eliminate black markets.

To bring violations to the attention of the War Price and Rationing Board.

Window stickers will be given all homemakers, businessmen, and other individuals who purchase rationed goods. Local ration boards have these available at their office now.

Larger posters for stores who pledge themselves to the drive are also going to be distributed. It is through distributor-consumer cooperation that the Home Front campaign to keep prices down will succeed.

C. H. Mills, chairman of the Arlington Heights Price panel, and E. H. Malzahn, chairman of the local board, agree that Arlington Heights has been on its "best behavior," but that campaign interest will strengthen ceilings.

IN MEMORIAM

Mr. Harvey Cosman, who passed away Sept. 12, 1942.

Our hearts still ache with loneliness,
Our eyes shed many a tear
God alone knows how we miss him
As it ends the first sad year
God took him home, it was his will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.

Pay tribute

Dr. Bruce T. Best

"When Miss Martha Jackson essayed the difficult task of acting as our Community Nurse, she was almost a pioneer in such work. She not only had to make use of her professional knowledge, but to educate the public to be willing to avail itself of this service. The adjustment was difficult, and necessitated a high degree of tact and other qualities not usually considered a part of a nurse's duties.

"Her many years of service in this community demonstrated her ability to adjust herself to conditions as she found them, and in this way she achieved success.

"I came to know her best in the periods of adversity and discouragement that inevitably beset her, and learnd to respect her as a high-minded, self-sacrificing woman with a heart full of love, kindness and service for those in need of it. As her greatest joy was in helping others, her greatest recompense was the knowledge that she had accomplished this.

"What a pleasant world this would be, were there many Martha Jacksons."

Dr. H. D. Dunn

"With the passing of Miss Jackson, the community and especially those who were closely connected with the health work in the schools and the dental clinic will well recall the extra hours and added efforts she gave in seeing to it that the children would have the proper dental care.

"When it was found that the parents of many children could not afford the dental care required, Miss Jackson was influential in opening the dental clinic in the village hall. She was truly interested in the dental health and welfare of each child."

The Friendly class of the Presbyterian church will hold its first meeting of the season on Tuesday, September 14, at 1:30 p. m., in the church parlors.

IN MEMORIAM

Mr. Harvey Cosman, who passed away Sept. 12, 1942.
Our hearts still ache with loneliness,
Our eyes shed many a tear
God alone knows how we miss him
As it ends the first sad year
God took him home, it was his will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.
Loving wife, Sarah Cosman and Children.

I'll stop my teasing now, darling, but I hope you did just that, because if you did, it means that you're my same enthusiastic Mary whom I love to be with . . .

There's nothing new to tell you about us . . . right now we're frightened about the epidemic of poliomeylitis that's spreading here in Chicago . . . we've been staying close to old Shady Rest and keeping the children in our own backyard as much as possible . . . we're wondering if school will open next week . . . I have to confess that we're as excited about school this year as we were about kindergarten last year . . . isn't that silly of me? . . . do you suppose I'll EVER get used to being a mother and take things as a matter of fact? . . . I'm a little sad every time I think of Davy being away from us practically all day . . . he's thrilled about learning to read . . . from the way he talks, I know he thinks he'll be able to pick up any book in the house and read it through after the first week of school . . . he thinks, too, that he's going to be allowed to use pen and ink the first day . . . when do they start children on that? . . . I can't remember! . . . I shall get such a kick out of his first pencil box and books . . . he wants a lunch box with a thermos bottle in it like the big boys have, but you've always told me that you thought the boys' health was better when they could have a hot lunch at school . . . he said when he asked for the lunch box, "You know it'll save you and Daddy money to get me the box." . . . but Dave agrees with you and thinks it would be better to spend the money at school rather than with the doctor.

When I told Dave that I felt badly about Davy's being in school all day, he said, "I'll bet there are a couple of nuns over there that feel just as badly about it for reverse reasons." . . . we learned at the last PTA meeting when we talked with his teacher that he followed her around from the time he got there until he left, asking questions . . . and he didn't let up on her until he was satisfied with her answers . . . I said something to the effect, "How very tiring for you!" but she answered me gently, "But that's how little children learn and that's what I'm here for." . . .

I talked with Davy's teacher alone for a little while one day last June just before school closed . . . she said she was leaving here now and might never return but that she'd like to have me get in touch with her . . . find her if I could say in about ten or fifteen years . . . because she was convinced that Davy would be a genius of some sort . . . maybe a poet, perhaps a musician . . . it was too soon to say what line he would follow . . . but she would like to know if she was right about this . . . I blushed and tried to be modest and poo-hoo her but I practically ran all the way home to report this talk to Dave and Estelle . . . now how do you suppose Dave reacted to this? . . . he said, "He's no genius! . . . he has a good memory and his ears are big . . . he hears too much . . . get him a haircut tomorrow." . . . and you'd have thought to hear him, that the nun had insulted our child . . . I think that bit about a poet got him because with final bellow, "get him a haircut tomorrow," he implied that he wouldn't have a genius around the house! . . . ah me . . . sometimes the gentleman I married baffles me . . . as for me, I take all this with a grain of salt . . . I'm sure my love for my children will remain the same whether they're geniuses or never get beyond third grade . . . then too, I do think a genius might be somewhat hampered with a flighty mother like myself for background, don't you? . . .

Well at this time next week, I shall have to admit that I no longer have four babies . . . my first born will be a school boy . . . I've really been trying to face it all summer . . . Davy's grown one inch in three months . . . he refuses to be cuddled and his questions are getting more complex every day . . . I refer him more often to his male parent . . . a cowardly procedure I swore I'd never adopt, B. D. . . . I could fill a whole letter with them but here are a few recent examples, "What's the difference between in-laws and out-laws?" . . . I overheard Dave start that answer with, "Some people say, 'Not much,' son, but I'll try to explain." . . . "Why doesn't God pick up the Philippine Islands in His fingers and put them down in the Gulf of Mexico where they'd be right next to us and we could protect them easier?" . . . "Why does Santa Claus forget to leave presents to some poor children when they're good? It doesn't seem dem-cratic." . . . but I'm too fond of you to bore you further . . .

Could you stand a whole letter about your namesake, Charlotte Mary and perhaps a pencil sketch of her in her very best little girl clothes? . . . I want to hear from you all about "the Boys" . . . I shall be especially interested in what young Bob will do this coming year . . . give my love to them all . . . couldn't you all get in here before school starts?

White Elephant sale at Prospect Heights

The Prospect Heights unit of Bundles for America will sponsor a White Elephant sale at the Ration board headquarters on Sept. 22, that will start at 10:00 a. m. and last until everything is sold.

If anyone has anything that she would like to donate towards this sale, please call Mrs. John Spillar, 7139-M, chairman of this project. She will make arrangements to have someone come to your house to pick up the articles.

Palatine went over the top at the big 4-H club Cook county fair. Our young farmers put in their entries and hoped to bring at least one ribbon to Palatine. Well, folks, they came through with 16 ribbons, 6 of them blue, and several cash prizes. You can believe the 4-H club members when they say they are proud of their blue ribbon stock, and we know they have made Cook county Palatine conscious again. The club camped out at the fair, enjoying a wiener roast, games, races and picnic, but most of all the judging.

"Crime Doctor" at Arlington Theatre

Radio's crime-expert now comes to the screen in "Crime Doctor," starring Warner Baxter, with Margaret Lindsay and John Litel. It's at the Arlington Theatre this Friday and Saturday with "Dive Bomber," a technicolor feature with Errol Flynn and Fred MacMurray.

Raoul Peeters is guest at 30-year service dinner

At a luncheon held in the Fair Store restaurant, Chicago, Friday, September 3, Raoul H. Peeters, 803 North Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, was honored by his associates upon completing 30 years of service with Commonwealth Edison company. He was presented with a tobacco pouch and automatic index.

Mr. Peeters started his Edison career in 1913 as a key-punch operator in the statistical department and later became a special statistical clerk. Transferring to the electric shop office in 1920 as a statistician, he subsequently progressed to the positions of head clerk and chief clerk. The work in which Raoul was engaged was shifted to the general accounting department in 1935 and he was named assistant supervisor of the merchandise accounting division. He now holds the same post in the materials accounting division.

An Arlington Heights resident for 19 years, Mr. Peeters is currently serving as master of the local Masonic lodge. He has two sons in the armed forces. Raoul, Jr., is a Navy air cadet at Del monte, California, and Donald is training to become an ensign at the University of South Carolina.

American Legion auxiliary notes

The American Legion Auxiliary met at Legion hall on Tuesday evening, President Camille Peroutka, presiding. It was the last meeting of the year before the installation of officers for 1943-44, which will take place on Sept. 18. Camille has not missed a meeting during the year.

A delegation to the department convention gave a complete report on what took place at all of the meetings. Bertha Teutsch reported on all but three of the meetings.

Fannie May gave a report on receipts and expenditures for the refreshment booth at the fall festival. The storm on the last night cut in on the profits considerably.

Mr. Daggett was present representing the Legion and told of arrangements made to pay off the mortgage of the hall. The auxiliary voted to turn over to the Legion, the bonds which they have been holding in the treasury for this purpose.

Arrangements for installation were discussed before and after adjournment while the hostesses, Camille Peroutka and Mae Wisersky, served cake and coffee.

Welcome club rummage sale

The rummage sale committee of the Welcome club reports that the sale Sept. 1 in the basement of the Lutheran school, was a great success.

Co-chairmen Mrs. George Deiber and Mrs. Albert Meyer, who conducted the sale, are in charge of sending four boxes of clothes and shoes to Hines hospital and the Addison Orphanage.

They wish to thank all who contributed to the sale for making it possible. The event netted $148 which the Welcome club will use in its other activities.

Elected to head foot specialists

Dr. J. B. Collet, Jr., chiropodist and foot specialist of Des Plaines has been chosen to head the surgery department of the Illinois college of foot surgery, largest college of its kind in the world. The doctor was appointed to the teaching staff in '38. He has taught clinical and didactic surgery, in addition to maintaining his office in Des Plaines.

Men and Mission Sunday to be held November 14

General Dwight D. Eisenhower is one of the active supporters of the 13th annual Men and Missions Sunday to be observed November 14 under the sponsorship of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

More than 3,000 cities are participating in this year's program. The day will be recognized around the world by the armed forces of the United States and Canada, by our churches at home, and by a great many Christian churches in foreign lands.

The Rev. Milo J. Vondracek of the Methodist church, resident chairman of Arlington Heights, has been asked by the Laymen's Missionary Movement to enlist the cooperation of all local churches to place special emphasis on Men and Missions Sunday at their morning services.

He will furnish all local pastors with copies of a manual outlining various ways in which the day may be observed.

The general theme of the manual —Men On Christ's Mission—is most appropriate for the day in the opinion of leading churchmen and laymen alike.

Sieburgs celebrate fortieth anniversary

A 40th wedding anniversary demands fitting celebration, and it was given to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sieburg at their home last Thursday evening, Sept. 2.

The St. Anne club members brought their husbands to the Sieburg home, 116 N. Pine ave., and all entertained. Frank Bittner was star performer with his movies of the group at the Bittner silver wedding anniversary.

Mr. Bittner showed a reel of his flower garden which was taken on colored film. However, it was his first "feature" which most delighted those present. Everyone was eager to find himself on the screen.

Mrs. O. Wulbecker, in charge of refreshments, made the evening memorable with the beautifully decorated wedding cake which was center-piece at table.

After card playing, which lasted well into the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Sieburg were given a wool-filled comforter by club members, "a timely gift in face of coal rationing this winter."

Dorcas Aid of St. Peters Lutheran church will open the fall season with a white elephant party Tuesday evening, Sept. 14. Every member is urged to bring a white elephant.

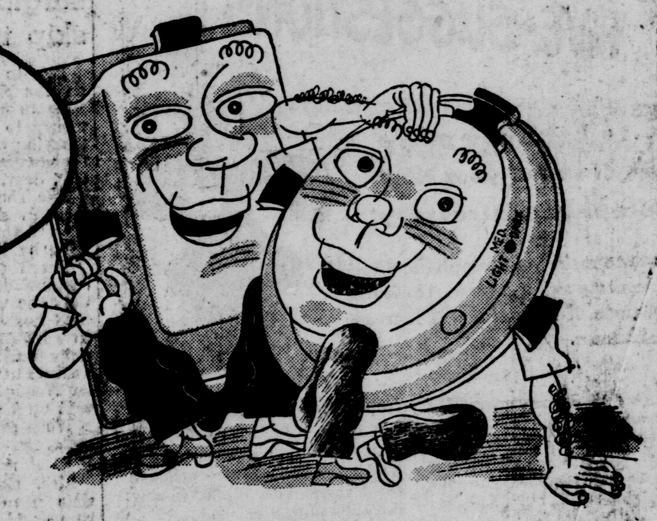
TIPS ON THE CARE OF WAFFLE-BAKERS AND SANDWICH GRILLS

PHYSICALLY FIT! ...You bet we are



The brush-off—After using your waffle baker, wipe the edges and the grids with a dry cloth. Use a wire brush to remove any particles that stick. And leave the grids open to cool.

Yes ma'am, we're in tiptop shape... ready for service on a moment's notice. How do we stay that way? Why, it's very simple. Our owner gives us the propet care. And you'd be surprised what the right treatment does for electric waffle bakers and sandwich toasters.

With your war workers on different shifts, you're probably using these appliances more to make one-person meals. So if you'd like to know how to keep your appliances in the pink of condition, we'll be glad to show you.

Never wash the grids; it will remove the "seasoning." And if you take my advice, you'll keep water away from the heating units and wiring.

Stuck? If the waffle should stick because of improper pre-heating or not enough shortening in the batter, brush off the grids with the wire brush and "re-season" them.

"Seasoning"—Cover the grids with a thin film of lard to fill the pores of the metal. Let the grids heat until they smoke. Then pour the batter. Discard the first waffle.

Your grill—Always preheat the grill with grids closed before using; for sandwiches, 6 to 7 minutes; for griddle cakes and meat, 7 to 9 minutes. When using waffle grids, preheat 11 minutes.

When sandwiches are toasted in succession, opening the grids will prevent overheating. But if some time elapses between one sandwich and the next, be sure to disconnect the grill occasionally.

When finished, wipe the grids of the sandwich grill with a damp cloth. If particles of grilled or fried food stick, remove them with a spatula or fine steel wool while the grids are still warm.

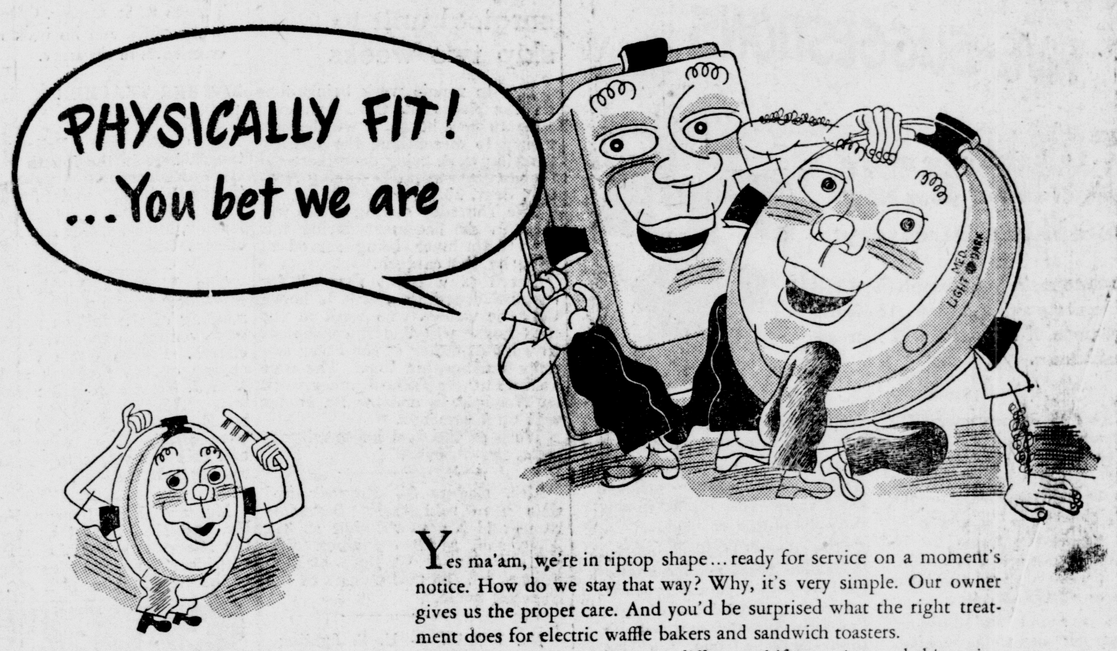
TIPS ON THE CARE OF WAFFLE BAKERS AND SANDWICH GRILLS



Yes ma'am, we're in tiptop shape... ready for service on a moment's notice. How do we stay that way? Why, it's very simple. Our owner gives us the proper care. And you'd be surprised what the right treatment does for electric waffle bakers and sandwich toasters.

With your war workers on different shifts, you're probably using these appliances more to make one-person meals. So if you'd like to know how to keep your appliances in the pink of condition, we'll be glad to show you.

The brush-off—After using your waffle baker, wipe the edges and the grids with a dry cloth. Use a wire brush to remove any particles that stick. And leave the grids open to cool.

Never wash the grids; it will remove the "seasoning." And if you take my advice, you'll keep water away from the heating units and wiring.

Stuck? If the waffle should stick because of improper pre-heating or not enough shortening in the batter, brush off the grids with the wire brush and "re-season" them.

"Seasoning"—Cover the grids with a thin film of lard to fill the pores of the metal. Let the grids heat until they smoke. Then pour the batter. Discard the first waffle.

Your grill—Always preheat the grill with grids closed before using; for sandwiches, 6 to 7 minutes; for griddle cakes and meat, 7 to 9 minutes. When using waffle grids, preheat 11 minutes.

When sandwiches are toasted in succession, opening the grids will prevent overheating. But if some time elapses between one sandwich and the next, be sure to disconnect the grill occasionally.

When finished, wipe the grids of the sandwich grill with a damp cloth. If particles of grilled or fried food stick, remove them with a spatula or fine steel wool while the grids are still warm.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Lagen and Mr. Edward Haisler of Chicago were week-end guests in the Edwin Haisler home.

Miss Lois Moyers and her small niece, Janet Moyers, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McElhose.

Mrs. Edward L. Mills and daughter, Martha Alice of Bangor, Maine, arrived Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mills, where they will make their home for some time. Small Martha fractured her leg shortly before they left Bangor, and the trip was made by plane to make it easier and faster. Lieut. Mills is now on over seas duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fellingham and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Monroe, are attending the fortieth wedding anniversary dinner of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fellingham of Towers Lake on Thursday evening.

The Willard Pate and Marshall Pate families, from the village and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hall of Chicago, spent the Labor day week-end at the Pate cottage at Lake Geneva.

Mrs. L. B. Hart of Dayton, Ohio was an overnight guest in the George Tuttle home last week.

Mrs. Norbert Leckband and sons, Norbert and Garwood are visiting relatives in Evansville, Ind. and Peducah, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hopkins and son of Woodstock were week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lathen.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stockdale and sons, Bill and Tommie, returned last week from a two weeks vacation at Lost Land Lake, Wis.

Patsy Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Day, left Wednesday for Milwaukee, Wis., where she will enter Milwaukee Downer Seminary, as a sophomore.

Mrs. Etta Harmon of Boone, Iowa, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Lee Atkinson, for the past two weeks, left for her home on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Walter Schimmel and sons, Douglas and David, arrived home last week from Macon, Georgia, where they spent the summer, to be close to Captain Schimmel, who is stationed at Cochran field. Mrs. Schimmel says that if the people around here think they live in a congested and busy area, they need only go south in the Army camp area to see congestion and activity.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Militzer and family and Miss Laura McElhose were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElhose, where they celebrated the birthday of the host.

Mrs. E. A. Taylor was hostess to her bridge club for dessert and cards on Thursday evening.

Arlington girl scout council meets Thursday

The Girl Scout association and council met in Arlington Thursday, Sept. 2, at 8 p. m. in the field house.

The meeting was opened by the scout commissioner, Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel, and the greater part of the evening was devoted to the reading and discussion of the by-laws, which were adopted at this meeting.

The association was formed early in the summer, and will meet three times a year, with the council meeting monthly. The girl scout movement in the village has reached such proportions that a council and association became a necessity, and the organization will do much to further the work of scouting here.

The association and council members are: Commissioner Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel; deputy commissioner, Mrs. W. C. Lathen; treasurer, Mrs. Rex Volz; secretary, Mr. A. W. Bathje; registrar, Mrs. E. H. Niemeyer; organization, Mrs. H. J. Carr; training, Mrs. W. N. Walten; program, Mrs. H. J. Gregg; camping, Mrs. Bruce Jarvis; public relations, Mrs. J. C. Jones; and finance Mr. Kenneth Kennedy.

Dick Lacina weds Missouri girl Tuesday

The many friends of Richard Lacina will be interested to learn that Dick does things in a big way.

Richard graduated as an air cadet on August 31, at Freeman field, Seymour, Indiana, when he received his silver wings and a commission as a second Lieutenant in the Air Corps, and on Sept. 7 he was married to Miss Wilma French of Cape Girardeau, Missouri. The wedding took place at Cape Girardeau, but no details are available.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacina flew to Freeman field, Seymour, Indiana, to see their son graduate, and met his bride to be.

Lieut. Lacina is now stationed at Maxwell field where he is learning how to fly the big four engined planes. His bride will join him there in about a month.

The Lacinas have another son in the air corps, Bob, who is taking his preflight training in Texas.

Heights Red Cross surgical unit to skip two weeks

Due to repair work being done on the floors at the Arlington Heights field house, it will be necessary to discontinue the surgical dressing work being done there for the next two weeks beginning Monday, Sept. 13.

The Thursday sewing group will meet in the basement during this time with lunch being served at noon by the canteen.

There is a great demand for surgical dressings and it is hoped that the women who work at the field house will find it convenient to work at either of the other two units during this time. The unit at the Lutheran school annex work on Wednesdays and the St. James unit on Thursdays.

Work at the field house will resume again Sept. 27.

Mrs. George K. Haycock and sons have sold their Scarsdale home and are now living at 381 Alles ave., in Des Plaines. Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Dotts of Barrington are the new owners of the Haycock home.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

LARRY LESUEUR, correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting Company, was in the Soviet Union from October 1941 to October 1942. In October 1941 the Germans had almost reached Moscow. In October 1942 they were being driven out of Stalingrad. Mr. Lesueur considers these twelve months to have been of crucial importance, not only for the Russians, but for the entire course of the war. He writes about them in his book "12 Months That Changed the World."

LARRY LESUEUR

His assignment in Russia was not to make long reports on military strategy. Rather, his job was to pack into his daily broadcasts fresh, colorful and revealing bits of news and human interest material which would help Americans to know what life was like in the Soviet Union in wartime. He follows the same technique in his book. He has a reporter's gift of looking and listening; he reports vividly and clearly what he saw and heard.

Among the many people with whom he talked was Major Valentine Grizadubova, one of the three women who wear the gold star of a "hero of the Soviet Union" and the only woman to have led an all-male squadron of heavy night bombers. "There are many women in the Soviet Union who are fighting for their country," she told him. "They are especially good in the air. The youngest girl in the Red Air Force is seventeen, and the oldest is a woman navigator of forty-five."

The barricades had been removed in Moscow long before Lesueur left, but every morning the streets were filled with great piles of wood, brought in by voluntary woodchoppers for the purpose of heating houses for which there was no longer coal. One day the entire corps de ballet turned out to help load wood on the trucks at the riverside. The next day it was announced from the stage at the ballet that the premiere ballerina, Messerer, was unable to appear. She was too stiff from hauling wood. That gives us an idea of what the Russians mean by an all-out war!

* * *

"Angel of the Navy" by Joan Angel; "The WAACS" by Nancy Shea; "Yes Ma'am" by Auxiliary Elizabeth R. Pollock—these are a few of the new books that tell how American women are going to war. One of the most amusing—as well as informative—of such books is "All-Out Arlene" by H. I. Phillips (soon to be made into a motion picture) which tells of Arlene Applegate who left her good job as model secretary for the advertising agency of Batson, Munch & Twiggerfizz, to join the Waacs because, she figured, the only way to win a war was to get in there and fight.

* * *

"Paris—Underground" by Etta Shiber, the true story of two women who helped some 200 English soldiers to escape out of France, will be an October selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club. The Club is also sending its members for the same month "C/O Postmaster" by Corporal Thomas R. St. George. Corporal St. George is with the American forces in Australia, and his book is a colorful and humorous account of his experiences in the army.

FORMER TEACHER JOINS WAVES

Miss Gertrude Belleau, who taught here in the fourth grade of the north school last year, is now in the WAVES, and is stationed at Mt. Holyoke College at South Hadley, Mass., where she is taking officers training.

The Woman's Society of the Methodist church will hold its first meeting of the fall on next Tuesday evening in the parlors of the church. Fidelis circle will be in charge of the program and Rev. Milo J. Vondracek will review the book "Abundant Living" written by E. Stanley Jones. His books have always been very popular, and this one seems to be fast becoming a best seller.

Mr. and Mrs. George Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drynan and the Misses Ann and Lena Fischer of Chicago, were week-end guests at the Wm. B. Forrest home.

LIEUT-COL. A. AHNFELDT, his wife, and daughter, Diane, are pictures here while living in Hawaii just prior to 'Pearl Harbor.'

Mrs. Ahnfeldt and son doing nicely

Mrs. Herbert Reinshagen of Algonquin rd., recently received word of the birth of a son to her niece, Mrs. Arnold Ahnfeldt, formerly of Hawaii and now located at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Local people will remember Mrs. Ahnfeldt as the interesting speaker who told of her experiences during the Pearl Harbor attack, when she and her neighbors watched the Japanese planes attacking Pearl Harbor, from their homes in Honolulu harbor a few miles away, not realizing for some time that it really was war. When the news reached them they also joined the other civilians and found refuge in the hills. Later she and her small daughter came back to America on an evacuee ship.

Mrs. Ahnfeldt's husband saw active duty during the attack as a medical officer stationed at Honolulu harbor, where he was a Captain in the medical corps. He has since been returned to this country, where he is now commissioned a Lieut. Colonel.

Following Lieut. Colonel Ahnheldt's arrival in this country he was first stationed at Camp Robinson where he did hospital work, and then was sent to Command and General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, where he received his present rank. He is again at Camp Robinson where he is awaiting further orders.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cleaver entertained a group of friends from Chicago at a lawn picnic on Labor day.

Arlington local news

Mrs. Bill Foley and son, Bill, Jr., who for some time have been living with the Ed Foley family, are spending a short time with her parents at Hanover.

Mrs. Gordon Ferguson and son, Gordon Richard, of Bronxville, New York, who have been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frye this summer, will be joined by her husband, Lieut. Ferguson on Thursday of this week. Following his two weeks furlough the family will return to the East. A double christening will be held in the Frank Carr home on Friday, when small Gordon Richard Ferguson and Stephanie Lynn Carr will be christened by Rev. Milo J. Vondracek. Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Ferguson are sisters. A family dinner will follow the christening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr and daughter plan to leave on Saturday for Orlando, Fla., where they will visit at the home of Mr. Carr's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dibble and family spent the Labor day week-end with the Rev. Paul Dibble family at Aurora.

Mrs. Frederick Franke of Chicago was a week-end guest in the W. G. Franke home. Her husband, Sgt. Franke, is now stationed in England.

Carol Forrest, small three and half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Forrest, who for some time has been serving as commercial model, again has been posing for commercial pictures. This time she is advertising toys and during the past three months she has posed for victrola records. She works for the Deutch commercial studios, and receives her assignments in a most informal manner, when a scout notices her on a loop elevator, and asks her mother if she would consider letting her model. Carol loves it and is probably the youngest "working gal" in town.

Rather, his job was to pack into his daily broadcasts fresh, colorful and revealing bits of news and human interest material which would help Americans to know what life was like in the Soviet Union in wartime. He follows the same technique in his book. He has a reporter's gift of looking and listening; he reports vividly and clearly what he saw and heard.

Among the many people with whom he talked was Major Valentine Grizadubova, one of the three women who wear the gold star of a "hero of the Soviet Union" and the only woman to have led an all-male squadron of heavy night bombers. "There are many women in the Soviet Union who are fighting for their country," she told him. "They are especially good in the air. The youngest girl in the Red Air Force is seventeen, and the oldest is a woman navigator of forty-five."

The barricades had been removed in Moscow long before Lesueur left, but every morning the streets were filled with great piles of wood, brought in by voluntary woodchoppers for the purpose of heating houses for which there was no longer coal. One day the entire corps de ballet turned out to help load wood on the trucks at the riverside. The next day it was announced from the stage at the ballet that the premiere ballerina, Messerer, was unable to appear. She was too stiff from hauling wood. That gives us an idea of what the Russians mean by an all-out war!

"Angel of the Navy" by Joan Angel; "The WAACS" by Nancy Shea; "Yes Ma'am" by Auxiliary Elizabeth R. Pollock—these are a few of the new books that tell how American women are going to war. One of the most amusing—as well as informative—of such books is "All-Out Arlene" by H. I. Phillips (soon to be made into a motion picture) which tells of Arlene Applegate who left her good job as model secretary for the advertising agency of Batson, Munch & Twiggerfizz, to join the Waacs because, she figured, the only way to win a war was to get in there and fight.

"Paris—Underground" by Etta Shiber, the true story of two women who helped some 200 English soldiers to escape out of France, will be an October selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club. The Club is also sending its members for the same month "C/O Postmaster" by Corporal Thomas R. St. George. Corporal St. George is with the American forces in Australia, and his book is a colorful and humorous account of his experiences in the army.

FORMER TEACHER JOINS WAVES

Miss Gertrude Belleau, who taught here in the fourth grade of the north school last year, is now in the WAVES, and is stationed at Mt. Holyoke College at South Hadley, Mass., where she is taking officers training.

The Woman's Society of the Methodist church will hold its first meeting of the fall on next Tuesday evening in the parlors of the church. Fidelis circle will be in charge of the program and Rev. Milo J. Vondracek will review the book "Abundant Living" written by E. Stanley Jones. His books have always been very popular, and this one seems to be fast becoming a best seller.

Mr. and Mrs. George Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drynan and the Misses Ann and Lena Fischer of Chicago, were week-end guests at the Wm. B. Forrest home.

LIEUT-COL. A. AHNFELDT, his wife, and daughter, Diane, are pictures here while living in Hawaii just prior to 'Pearl Harbor.'

Mrs. Ahnfeldt and son doing nicely

Mrs. Herbert Reinshagen of Algonquin rd., recently received word of the birth of a son to her niece, Mrs. Arnold Ahnfeldt, formerly of Hawaii and now located at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Local people will remember Mrs. Ahnfeldt as the interesting speaker who told of her experiences during the Pearl Harbor attack, when she and her neighbors watched the Japanese planes attacking Pearl Harbor, from their homes in Honolulu harbor a few miles away, not realizing for some time that it really was war. When the news reached them they also joined the other civilians and found refuge in the hills. Later she and her small daughter came back to America on an evacuee ship.

Mrs. Ahnfeldt's husband saw active duty during the attack as a medical officer stationed at Honolulu harbor, where he was a Captain in the medical corps. He has since been returned to this country, where he is now commissioned a Lieut. Colonel.

Following Lieut. Colonel Ahnheldt's arrival in this country he was first stationed at Camp Robinson where he did hospital work, and then was sent to Command and General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, where he received his present rank. He is again at Camp Robinson where he is awaiting further orders.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cleaver entertained a group of friends from Chicago at a lawn picnic on Labor day.

Virginia McElhose, Lt. Ed Chidley married

One of the loveliest late summer weddings that consumated a neighborhood romance, was that of Miss Virginia McElhose when she became the bride of Lieut. Edward Chidley on Saturday evening in the St. Peter's Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McElhose of No. Belmont and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Chidley, who, for years have been next door neighbors.

The wedding took place at seven thirty p. m., before an altar banked with baskets of vari-colored gladioli, white hydrangeas and lavendar physostegia. Rev. Reimer of Reedsburg, Wis., grandfather of the bride, performed the marriage rites.

Before the service Misses Mary Ann Eiler and Ruth Studtman sang "He Leadeth Me," and following the ceremony, Miss Eiler sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white satin, cut along princess lines, and fashioned with a long train. It had long tight sleeves, and the bodice was trimmed with seed pearls. Her finger tip veil was held in place with a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a bride's bouquet of white starlight roses with showers of stephanotis. Her jewels were a string of pearls.

Mrs. Reuben Middleborn of Chicago, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was gowned in turquoise blue brocaded taffeta, and carried pink delight roses with light blue delphinium. She wore pink roses in her hair.

Miss Margaret Schulte, a cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor, and she was gowned in blue velveray and carried yellow souvenir roses with light blue delphinium. She wore yellow roses in her hair.

The bridesmaids were Betty Fulkersen of Chicago, and Dorothy Hoeft. They were gowned alike in peach colored velveray, and carried talisman roses and dark blue delphinium. They wore matching roses in their hair.

Rae Chidley, niece of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid, and she wore pastel blue taffeta, and carried pink delight roses with white asters and wore rosebuds in her hair. The small flower girl was Linda Barr, niece of the groom. She was gowned in pink taffeta, and carried a basket of pink snap dragons and dark blue centaureas.

Herbert Chidley, brother of the groom served as best man, and the ushers were Royal Reimer, a cousin of the bride of Oak Park, Herman McElhose, a brother of the bride of Waterloo, Iowa, and Al Barr, brother-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. McElhose wore for her daughter's wedding, a gown of dark green crepe, and the mother of the groom was gowned in blue. They wore corsages of souvenir roses.

Lieut. Chidley's grandmother Stangert of Glenview, was also present for the wedding and wore a dark dress and a corsage of talisman roses and blue centaureas.

Girl Scout and Brownies, of which the bride was troop leader, attended the wedding in a body.

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held in the Lutneran school hall for the two hundred and fifty guests. The buffet lunch was served in the dining room which was decorated in pink, green and white, with garden flowers arranged to add to its attractiveness. A large wedding cake and tall white tapers graced the bridal table.

The young couple left Saturday evening for a short honeymoon at Rugen's cottage at Tower Lakes, and will leave for Lieut Chidley's station at Camp Maxey, Texas, on Thursday.

The bride and groom are both graduates of the local high school, and Lieut. Chidley was employed as a carpenter prior to his induction. Mrs. Chidley is employed at the Soft Water service, and upon her return will again be located there.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Oscar Lenz of Lansing, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Bormet and family of Tinley Park, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Lester McElhose, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McElhose, Mrs. Minnie McElhose and Miss Jennie McElhose of LaGrange, Mr. and Mrs. Rennak, and Mr. and Mrs. Rugen of Glenview, Mr. Will Stangor and daughter of River rd., Mr. and Mrs. Embert Stangor and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stangor and daughter of Des Plaines, Lt. Vehner, Camp Barkly, Texas, and Mr. Herman Almcrantz and daughter of Chicago.

Suzy and Johnny return to school

If Suzy and Johnny went back to school this fall with a button minus hither and yon, and with somewhat a careless appearance, it can be just one more thing blamed onto the war. It won't necessarily mean either that mother has taken a war job, that is, a war job in a factory or office, for Junior's careless appearance and neglected buttons, are due to mother's preoccupation with the pressure cooker, the surplus tomato crop and the recipe book.

When this editor went back to her job last week, after a two months vacation canning, she found the main topic of every telephone conversation was on the subject of how to preserve this or that, and the quantities needed to carry an average sized family through the winter.

The latter seems to be a matter for speculation, with some people running their supplies of bottled vegetables and fruits well into the hundreds. The editor thought she had outdone herself, until stories of a thousand quarts for a family of six reached her ears, and when this was duplicated for a family of three, a paltry three hundred quarts made her think the family would starve, and she started the hard work over again.

Nearly every vacant lot has raised a bumper crop this year, due to the cooperation of the weather man and the hard work of the many gardeners who have been as amateur at the farming as have been the house wives at canning. But their gardens have produced such lush crops that it has kept the gardeners and canners preoccupied and perspiring most of the summer.

When an occasional bridge game could be squeezed in between beets and beans, weary guests appeared with stained hands and broken fingernails, but with a gleam of pride in their eyes, and a new recipe to spring on the crowd.

Even father has fallen too, has snapped beans, peeled tomatoes, watched the pressure cooker gauge, to say nothing of sealing the tin cans. And many a good recipe has come mother's way from the conversation on the 5:27 when "he" told "him" of his wife's prowess over the canning kettle.

Yes even father has a slightly frowsy look this summer, and maybe Junior's buttons may be missing, but he and the rest of the family will not have a lean and hungry look this winter.

Hannigans to move to Evanston

Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Hannigan have purchased a home in Lincolnwood, a suburb of Evanston, and are moving from their Scarsdale home Sept. 15. The Hannigans have made their home here for three and a half years, and Mrs. Hannigan has been active in the Woman's club, the work of the Red Cross, where she has served as head of the Canteen corps for the past year. She was also active in the Blood Bank work of the Red Cross locally. The Hannigans have a small daughter, Patricia Ann.

Methodist women can for orphanage

Several members of the Woman's Society of the Methodist church met at the church on Tuesday to can tomatoes for the Lake Bluff orphanage. Not only are families finding it necessary to prepare as much food as possible for the winter, but institutions also find it difficult to manage on their allotment. It is expected that a barrel of canned goods will be sent to the orphanage.

Heights 'Bundles' unit opens with silver tea

The local unit for Bundles for America opened their fall season on Wednesday afternoon with a silver tea at the Arlington Heights field house, when Mrs. George Hartford, retiring chairman, introduced the new officers and presented a speaker from headquarters who told of various phases of the organization work.

Mrs. Hartford, who has been chairman for the local organization since its formation in the village, has accepted the position as midwest chairman for the Bundles for America, and will spend a great deal of her time in the Chicago offices. She was presented with a lovely lapel pin by the group here, as a token of appreciation, with the presentation made of Mrs. Robert Palmer, who is the newly elected chairman of the group.

Other officers presented by Mrs. Hartford were Mrs. Carl John, co-chairman, Mrs. John Shanklin, secretary, Mrs. Nicolas Mayer, treasurer, Mrs. Wm. B. Forrest chairman of ways and means, Mrs. Walter Schockmel, chairman of the layettes for the wives of service men, Mrs. Eric Plontke, comfort kit chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy, membership chairman.

The outgoing board presented Mrs. Palmer with a large bouquet of lovely gladioli, with Mrs. Hartford making the presentation.

Mrs. Burnham Curtis, comfort kit chairman of the Chicago area, told of the work of the organization, and explained the Christmas stocking drive, which the organization will again sponsor for every service man in this area.

Tea was served preceding the meeting, at the beautifully appointed tea table, which was attractively arranged with garden flowers and silver tea service. Mrs. Schockmel, Mrs. Shanklin and Mrs. Kennedy poured and assisted the guests with the open faced sandwiches, cookies and tea and coffee. The speakers platform was attractively arranged with hydrangeas.

Mrs. Carl John, co-chairman, made all arrangements for the tea.

Edward Chidley on Saturday evening in the St. Peter's Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McElhose of No. Belmont and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Chidley, who, for years have been next door neighbors.

The wedding took place at seven thirty p. m., before an altar banked with baskets of vari-colored gladioli, white hydrangeas and lavendar physostegia. Rev. Reimer of Reedsburg, Wis., grandfather of the bride, performed the marriage rites.

Before the service Misses Mary Ann Eiler and Ruth Studtman sang "He Leadeth Me," and following the ceremony, Miss Eiler sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white satin, cut along princess lines, and fashioned with a long train. It had long tight sleeves, and the bodice was trimmed with seed pearls. Her finger tip veil was held in place with a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a bride's bouquet of white starlight roses with showers of stephanotis. Her jewels were a string of pearls.

Mrs. Reuben Middleborn of Chicago, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was gowned in turquoise blue brocaded taffeta, and carried pink delight roses with light blue delphinium. She wore pink roses in her hair.

Miss Margaret Schulte, a cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor, and she was gowned in blue velveray and carried yellow souvenir roses with light blue delphinium. She wore yellow roses in her hair.

The bridesmaids were Betty Fulkersen of Chicago, and Dorothy Hoeft. They were gowned alike in peach colored velveray, and carried talisman roses and dark blue delphinium. They wore matching roses in their hair.

Rae Chidley, niece of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid, and she wore pastel blue taffeta, and carried pink delight roses with white asters and wore rosebuds in her hair. The small flower girl was Linda Barr, niece of the groom. She was gowned in pink taffeta, and carried a basket of pink snap dragons and dark blue centaureas.

Herbert Chidley, brother of the groom served as best man, and the ushers were Royal Reimer, a cousin of the bride of Oak Park, Herman McElhose, a brother of the bride of Waterloo, Iowa, and Al Barr, brother-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. McElhose wore for her daughter's wedding, a gown of dark green crepe, and the mother of the groom was gowned in blue. They wore corsages of souvenir roses.

Lieut. Chidley's grandmother Stangert of Glenview, was also present for the wedding and wore a dark dress and a corsage of talisman roses and blue centaureas.

Girl Scout and Brownies, of which the bride was troop leader, attended the wedding in a body.

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held in the Lutneran school hall for the two hundred and fifty guests. The buffet lunch was served in the dining room which was decorated in pink, green and white, with garden flowers arranged to add to its attractiveness. A large wedding cake and tall white tapers graced the bridal table.

The young couple left Saturday evening for a short honeymoon at Rugen's cottage at Tower Lakes, and will leave for Lieut Chidley's station at Camp Maxey, Texas, on Thursday.

The bride and groom are both graduates of the local high school, and Lieut. Chidley was employed as a carpenter prior to his induction. Mrs. Chidley is employed at the Soft Water service, and upon her return will again be located there.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Oscar Lenz of Lansing, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Bormet and family of Tinley Park, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Lester McElhose, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McElhose, Mrs. Minnie McElhose and Miss Jennie McElhose of LaGrange, Mr. and Mrs. Rennak, and Mr. and Mrs. Rugen of Glenview, Mr. Will Stangor and daughter of River rd., Mr. and Mrs. Embert Stangor and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stangor and daughter of Des Plaines, Lt. Vehner, Camp Barkly, Texas, and Mr. Herman Almcrantz and daughter of Chicago.

STRAIGHT FROM NEW YORK

ROSE-COLORED BRIDE
Discarding the traditional white, this modern bride chose a New York creation of rose-colored taffeta with scalloped velveteen appliques.

Suzy and Johnny return to school

If Suzy and Johnny went back to school this fall with a button minus hither and yon, and with somewhat a careless appearance, it can be just one more thing blamed onto the war. It won't necessarily mean either that mother has taken a war job, that is, a war job in a factory or office, for Junior's careless appearance and neglected buttons, are due to mother's preoccupation with the pressure cooker, the surplus tomato crop and the recipe book.

When this editor went back to her job last week, after a two months vacation canning, she found the main topic of every telephone conversation was on the subject of how to preserve this or that, and the quantities needed to carry an average sized family through the winter.

The latter seems to be a matter for speculation, with some people running their supplies of bottled vegetables and fruits well into the hundreds. The editor thought she had outdone herself, until stories of a thousand quarts for a family of six reached her ears, and when this was duplicated for a family of three, a paltry three hundred quarts made her think the family would starve, and she started the hard work over again.

Nearly every vacant lot has raised a bumper crop this year, due to the cooperation of the weather man and the hard work of the many gardeners who have been as amateur at the farming as have been the house wives at canning. But their gardens have produced such lush crops that it has kept the gardeners and canners preoccupied and perspiring most of the summer.

When an occasional bridge game could be squeezed in between beets and beans, weary guests appeared with stained hands and broken fingernails, but with a gleam of pride in their eyes, and a new recipe to spring on the crowd.

Even father has fallen too, has snapped beans, peeled tomatoes, watched the pressure cooker gauge, to say nothing of sealing the tin cans. And many a good recipe has come mother's way from the conversation on the 5:27 when "he" told "him" of his wife's prowess over the canning kettle.

Yes even father has a slightly frowsy look this summer, and maybe Junior's buttons may be missing, but he and the rest of the family will not have a lean and hungry look this winter.

Hannigans to move to Evanston

Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Hannigan have purchased a home in Lincolnwood, a suburb of Evanston, and are moving from their Scarsdale home Sept. 15. The Hannigans have made their home here for three and a half years, and Mrs. Hannigan has been active in the Woman's club, the work of the Red Cross, where she has served as head of the Canteen corps for the past year. She was also active in the Blood Bank work of the Red Cross locally. The Hannigans have a small daughter, Patricia Ann.

Methodist women can for orphanage

Several members of the Woman's Society of the Methodist church met at the church on Tuesday to can tomatoes for the Lake Bluff orphanage. Not only are families finding it necessary to prepare as much food as possible for the winter, but institutions also find it difficult to manage on their allotment. It is expected that a barrel of canned goods will be sent to the orphanage.

Heights 'Bundles' unit opens with silver tea

The local unit for Bundles for America opened their fall season on Wednesday afternoon with a silver tea at the Arlington Heights field house, when Mrs. George Hartford, retiring chairman, introduced the new officers and presented a speaker from headquarters who told of various phases of the organization work.

Mrs. Hartford, who has been chairman for the local organization since its formation in the village, has accepted the position as midwest chairman for the Bundles for America, and will spend a great deal of her time in the Chicago offices. She was presented with a lovely lapel pin by the group here, as a token of appreciation, with the presentation made of Mrs. Robert Palmer, who is the newly elected chairman of the group.

Other officers presented by Mrs. Hartford were Mrs. Carl John, co-chairman, Mrs. John Shanklin, secretary, Mrs. Nicolas Mayer, treasurer, Mrs. Wm. B. Forrest chairman of ways and means, Mrs. Walter Schockmel, chairman of the layettes for the wives of service men, Mrs. Eric Plontke, comfort kit chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy, membership chairman.

The outgoing board presented Mrs. Palmer with a large bouquet of lovely gladioli, with Mrs. Hartford making the presentation.

Mrs. Burnham Curtis, comfort kit chairman of the Chicago area, told of the work of the organization, and explained the Christmas stocking drive, which the organization will again sponsor for every service man in this area.

Tea was served preceding the meeting, at the beautifully appointed tea table, which was attractively arranged with garden flowers and silver tea service. Mrs. Schockmel, Mrs. Shanklin and Mrs. Kennedy poured and assisted the guests with the open faced sandwiches, cookies and tea and coffee. The speakers platform was attractively arranged with hydrangeas.

Mrs. Carl John, co-chairman, made all arrangements for the tea.

TO THE WOMEN OF CHICAGOLAND
Hundreds of our boys who used to serve you are now in our fighting forces. Many of their places are being filled by women like yourself. Perhaps you, too, want to make a real contribution to victorious America. Turn your time into dollars to buy more Bonds—with pleasant work at JEWEL.

JEWEL — THE FRIENDLIEST STORE IN TOWN

This one's going to hurt!

INVASION COMES HIGH—in blood and money.

Part of the cost must be paid with human life. That means deep and lasting hurt for many and many an American family.

Part of the cost must be paid in cash . . . this September. And that's going to hurt, too!

The 3rd War Loan Is Here!

To pay for invasion—to get the money to keep our fighting machine going—you, and every man or woman in America, are asked to invest in at least one extra $100 Bond in September.

$100 EXTRA, mind you—for everybody.

No man or woman can hold back. No man or woman can point to his Payroll buying and say, "They don't mean me!" No man or woman can say, "I'm already lending 10% or 12% or 20%—I'm doing enough!"

Sure—it's going to hurt. It's going to take more than spare cash this time—more than just money that might have gone for fun. It's going to take money we have tucked away. It's going to take part of the money we've been living on—money that might have meant extra shoes or clothes or food! Money that might have gone for anything that we can get along without!

Sure—it'll be tough to dig up that extra money. But we've got to do it—and we will.

We'll do it partly because of the look that would come over the faces of our fighting men if we should fail. We'll do it partly because the cheapest, easiest way out of this whole rotten business is for everybody to chip in all he can and help end it quick. We'll do it partly because there's no finer, safer investment in the world today than a U. S. War Bond.

But mostly, we'll do it because America is right smack in the middle of the biggest, deadliest, dirtiest war in history.

And we're Americans.

Tells complete story of European invasion battle

The following story, while not written by a local serviceman, does warrant publication. It is a composite of nineteen letters, covering the trip across, invasion of Sicily, and return. Time covered is June 10 to August 3. The writer is Lenward Burroughs of Birmingham, Alabama. He serves Uncle Sam's navy as a pharmacist's mate, second class.

AT SEA—ATLANTIC

"We checked out day before yesterday and everything is fine so far. I don't know whether or not you guessed it, but this is an invasion trip. From all indications it'll make the African invasion look like a Sunday school picnic. We haven't been told where we'll land but it'll probably be the worst place hit.

"They've promised us a nice leave when we get back, but I suspect that when we do return they'll need reinforcements and we'll return to Europe once more."

AT SEA—ATLANTIC

"So far, o. k. Not much excitement and the sea is very calm. We had a littl excitement when a supercharged enemy tanker was tracked down and caught, and one enemy sub was attracted.

"I've been awfully busy studying for my second class exam, which I took yesterday. I passed with 3.75.

"We had nice church services this morning and a soldier entertainment in the afternoon. The show was excellent as we have quite a few ex-professionals on board. We also have a Saturday Evening Post correspondent with us. Watch for his story of this ship.

"We still haven't been told where we'll land. My guesses are A and then B. A is friendly while B is enemy territory. I think A is Oran or Algiers, while B is Italy or some island close by. B will probably be Sicily, Sardinia or Corsica.-'

AT SEA—ATLANTIC

"Another day, another dollar. Or I should say 50 cents. Everything still fine though the subs are getting too thick for comfort. There have been 60 alarms in the last 24 hours and we have manned battle stations three times today. Evidently Mr. Hitler knows we're coming and is out to stop us. Pretty soon we'll have to pry the subs away with sticks.

"The work isn't very hard this trip. We've got those tough 'commando invaders' again and they are too tough to get sick.

"We were issued new fireproof bedding rolls. We have to put our entire bed (mattress, pillow, blankets and all) in the bag by 0800 every morning and can't take them out until night. It sure is a lot of trouble. Sorta think it is a personal conspiracy against me."

AT SEA—ATLANTIC

"We had a fire drill yesterday and right in the middle of it had a subsighted signal. It was a fine mess. Water running everywhere from the hoses all of us had dropped. We were on battle stations an hour after sunrise and an hour after sunset. Add two or three 30 minute daily alarms and you can see what we do with our time.

"I'll be glad when this invasion is over and we can relax. I eat like a horse and hold my weight pretty well so I guess a little hard work wouldn't hurt anyone.

"Yesterday morning we came upon a British patrol plane forced down. They were pretty glad to see us.

"Tomorrow is Sunday and I imagine it will be the hottest Sunday I've ever seen. We are about one day from the Rock and in about the hottest place of the war. Germany is supposed to be doing everything in her power to stop any and all allied ships. Every watertight door is shut. This ship is supposed to take three torpedoes without sinking but you never know. At least, I wouldn't want to try it."

ORAN, ALGERIA

"We have been in Oran the last few days and is it ever busy! All the men do is eat, sleep, and study invasion. There'll be no surprising them on this trip for the place is crawling with spies.

"The men on ship weren't allowed on shore. Now we are steaming up the coast to Algiers where they are to be given ten days final training. Meanwhile, we are having liberty in Oran, I hope.

"My A was right, but I don't think my B is. We'll probably strike from several places at once, Italy, Sardinia, Sicily, France and no telling what will happen directly from Great Britain. I'm glad to have a part in something as big as this.

"I will try to pick up some trinkets while in Oran but don't suppose I'll have much luck. The franc has gone up another penny, to three cents. Keep those I send home for they may be worth a quarter again some day."

AT SEA—MEDITERANEAN

"Lights, places, curtain . . . dress rehearsal is on. A ship of war and a rehearsal for death. Last night we invaded an Arab village on a bleak strip of desert. We did it with all the trimmings—smoke screens, barrage balloons, and exploding shells. Everything was realistic except there were no bullets coming at us.

"I stood watch all night, but we didn't have a single casualty. It is easy to see that this invasion will run off a lot smoother than the last one.

"Last night's leave was truly in Hollywood style. A band was playing, ARC girls and WACS were on hand with lots of lemonaide, and 4 or 5 newsreel cameramen were grinding away for 'European Invasion Forces Leave the States.' Watch for them and see if you can see my 'smiling, eager to meet the Axis' face.

ORAN

"Back in Oran. And is this town ever crowded! The army is in town, plus the Atlantic fleet. On top of this the Royal Navy, RAF, Free French and French army and navy are all here. This town is more crowded than Newark, N. J. ever was. Red Cross places are so crowded that you have to wait in line two blocks to get in. Natives are so few in comparison that they almost look like strangers.

"Was going swimming but decided not to. One of the better divers dove from a high cliff and hit a rock instead of the water. Compound skull fracture was the result. With blood and brains streaming out all over the place he was given 6 hours to live. Exit one unit of manpower. Too bad he was killed by his own foolishness instead of in action. That cliff was 50 feet high."

ORAN

"Still in Oran. Have changed my mind about the July 4 invasion. Better make it about July 10. Town is still crowded. When this is all over I'd like to make tour of this country in a jeep.

"Met a flier who had just flown in from the States via England and Casablanca. He said preparations there were terrific while New York looked like the proverbial deserted village. This thing must really be BIG!"

ORAN

"Zero hour is approaching. I don't feel any fear, but there is a lot of nervous tension in the minds of everyone. I don't worry about being sunk because most of the survivors will probably be picked up. And then there is survivors leave which I could stand having right now. Only trouble is, they've cut it to 15 days. Only thing that worries me is that the invasion may not be successful and I may be taken prisoner.

"Got word the Italian fleet had pulled out for parts unknown. Part of the British navy left here so there may be some fireworks if they corner Mussolini's men somewhere. Air attacks and sub attacks aren't so bad, but I dislike sea attacks. Our air protection is good, however.

"We pull out tomorrow night or Monday morning. We'll be three days and four nights from our beach. My guess is that it'll be the Italian mainland somewhere in the vicinity of Naples. By this time next week it should be all over."

AT SEA—MEDITERANEAN

"I have just completed the busiest 48 hours in my life. There were 700 cases of food poisoning aboard and our little 32 bed hospital took care of them all. What a job. We decided it was contaminated ice cream.

"We are under way between Oran and Sicily. Next Saturday, July 10, at 2:45 in the morning, Europe will be invaded. We are hitting the beach in southern Sicily near Vittoria. It is extremely well armed and it is a certainty that many men will be lost. Admiral is betting that at least one ship will be sunk before we reach the beach. There are no takers."

AT SEA—MEDITERANEAN

"Tomorrow night at 0245 our first troops will leave the ship. Actual invasion will start before midnight but we're not in the first bunch. We take our debarkation stations at 7:30 and stay on them until we are unloaded. If we unload in 36 to 40 hours we will be in the first convoy home. Thus, we'll all be working hard. It'll mean a difference of being in New York in either 3 or 6 weeks.

"My station is top side at the casualty receiving station. I will be there with one doctor and our job will be to receive and decide where the casualties should go—to the dressing station, main operating room, or forward operating station. Dressing station takes care of minor cases, forward station the amputations and fractures, and the main OR will take abdominal cases and serious head-chest cases. Maybe I should have stayed in the operating room but I wanted to see what was going on.

"This morning we passed right by Bizerte, so close that we could see what everything looked like. Then we pulled right on around Cape Bon. Cape Bon looks just like the Rock.

"Just read in the Oran soldier news that we were reported sunk at Gibraltar. Hope that didn't reach the states for we are still very much afloat."

SCOGLITI, SICILY

"How are you all? Me—Little Joe has aged forty years in the last few days. We have strictly seen and done things. It has been hell. That is the only way to describe it. From 4:45 last Friday morning to 10 this morning (Thursday) I slept five hours. We have completely unloaded our troops and ship's cargo and will leave for Oran in about an hour.

"It has been a magnificent job and we haven't had a single hit. There have been air attacks hourly, but all have been reasonably small except one last night. For two hours the entire sky was lit with flares and the AA fire simply filled the air. I never saw anything so wonderful in my life. I just stood there with my mouth hanging open and soaked it all in.

"I saw five planes fall near us in flames. I saw three ships burn and sink. I have seen so much that it all seems so remote now. It is hard to realize now that just a few hours ago I was standing on deck listening to shrapnel falling all around me and thinking about how close you all were to collecting that $5,000 insurance. While the raid was on a large LST boat with tons of ammunition was tied to us. One bomb and there wouldn't have been a scrap of me left for a souvenir.

"We have gained air superiority and everything is getting peaceful. We are starting back to Oran with about 50 axis prisoners. Some ships have 500. One Italian was in sick bay. He was extremely happy about being captured. He was born in New York and brought to Italy when he was six years old."

ENROUTE TO ORAN

"Feeling fine and full of food. We just had a victory dinner with roast turkey, baked ham, oyster dressing, green peas, fresh celery, olives, cranberry sauce, mine pie, etc. All of it was strictly all I could eat. Now I'll go and sleep it off. Probably have indigestion when I wake up.

"Some things I forgot to mention about the invasion. The warships and cruisers had the entire coast in flames. It was a beautiful sight. If I had it to do all over again I wouldn't miss it for the world. I couldn't get any souvenirs, however."

ALGERIA

"Funny thing happened during the invasion. My watch had stopped just prior to the invasion. It started again when the invasion started and quit as soon as we pulled out for Oran. I guess it thrives on excitement.

"We unloaded our casualties and prisoners. Sorta sorry to see some of them go as you become attached to them. This life really makes you see the futility of war. One time these men are shooting each other and a few hours later they are lying side by side with no feeling of enmity against each other. Only the leaders want war and not the people themselves. What a civilized world this is!"

ORAN

"Perry has drawn a rough draft of his article on the invasion. It looks swell. I gave him some shots for tetanus and typhoid fever. He brags that I didn't hurt him a bit. Everyone he talks about in his article will be a close friend of mine. Watch for the article.

"Our ship can no longer be called a garbage scow. It is now a prison ship, transporting 850 prisoners back to the states. Bad part of it is that there are 45 litter cases aboard and several ambulatory ones. I hope they're all sick enough so as not to try to knock any of us off. The army sent along a bunch of its own guards."

ORAN

"We have about a hundred casualties. Many of them are German prisoners. I'm one of the few allowed to mingle with the prisoners. Some of them are swell fellows. I have three assistants, all German medicos. They sure are smart.

"The Germans all insist they are winning the war. That's propaganda for you. Hope to be in New York about August 5."

ENROUTE TO STATES

"Feeling fine and getting closer to home each day. Thought I was glad to get home on some of my other trips but none of them compare to this two month stretch. Don't know what I would do if I was down in Australia or someplace for a year or more.

"Getting some wonderful experience aboard ship. We have a lot of interesting cases to experiment with. Some of the boys are giving me souvenirs, so I guess I'll have some to bring home, after all.

"By the way, I'm getting a citation. It doesn't mean much, though, for everyone on ship is getting one. Wish I had one to wear on my chest. I'd gladly trade it, though, for a ten day leave (with plane reservations). What do you think about Mussolini quitting? Even some of our intelligent prisoners realize he is done."

NEW YORK

"Back in New York, and does it feel good! Just packed away some good old American food and am planning to get home, if only for 12 to 14 hours.

"Want to hear something sickening? All of our mail to July 4 is in Africa. They didn't know we were coming back and there it is over there.

"As a parting shot, I just had a tussle with a mental patient. But I didn't even mind his long finger nails. I'm comin' home, train, plane or walk . . ."

The following poem has been contributed by Pfc Paul Hoeft of Arlington Heights.

Hello folks, well, here I am
Working hard for Uncle Sam
Letter writing is a task
"What's the reason?" you may ask
Censors, is the one reply
They won't let a thing go by
If the weather I would mention
Razor blade would get attention
Cutting out that bit of news
So,—No weather—What's the use
Of the contours I would talk
Sure as hell, another squawk
Vegetation? Can't use it
Razor'd cut another slit
"Have we jeeps and trucks?" you say
Cannot answer that to-day
Guns and rifles both are out
Censors would begin to shout
Say a word about the foe
Razor strikes another blow
Furniture where we may sit
They would cry "You must omit."
"How about the place we eat?"
Can't tell that nor where we sleep
Did you question recreation?
That requires an expianation
If I told about the trip
Razor'd only go "Zip-zip"
Whereabouts I can't reveal
Censors say I must conceal
Every time I try to write
Razor's always fixed to bite
Each bit of news I try to tell
And make my letters look like hell
Now what would you do may I ask
With letter writing such a task
The only thing that I can say
Is "Hello There" and hope and pray
That censors will allow this thru to let you know I think of you.

Texas

Among the trainees in the Army Specialized Training Program at Baylor University, Waco, Texas, Edward G. Bublitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bublitz of 407 N. Vail ave., Arlington Heights, has been named a temporary officer by the Commandant, Colonel Ralph H. Durkee, Infantry.

Officers in the unit of 400 pre-engineers are rotated each week so that every man will be given an opportunity for leadership, according to Colonel Durkee. The trainees in the program fill all the offices in the Battalion, and as a man shows ability he is advanced by the Commandant to a higher office.

Trainee Bublitz will serve in the capacity of Platoon leader this week, according to the Commandant's announcement.

Lt. Robert Kruse of Wheeling called from Abilene, Texas, last week to visit for a few minutes with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kruse and his sister, Peggy.

Lt. Kruse expects to leave Camp Barkeley soon, on a three month period of maneuvers. His wife will make her home with her parents in Kansas City during his absence.

Indiana

Lieut. Warren Carlson of Arlington Heights, is now stationed at Jefferson Proving Ground, Madison, Indiana, where he is in the ordnance department. Prior to his arrival at Madison four weeks ago, he was stationed at Aberdeen, Maryland, for three and a half months, where he attended officers student ordnance school.

Lieut. Carlson received his commission at Iowa State College at Ames a year ago in June, and received his degree in mechanical engineering this spring, and he was called into active duty.

Georgia

Lt. Philip Carpenter of Wheeling arrived home Monday after completing his work in the Infantry Officers' School at Fort Benning, Georgia, where he received his commission as second Lieutenant on Saturday.

Lt. Carpenter is a graduate of Highland Park high school, and entered the service in December of last year. He took his basic training at Camp Robinson, Ark., and was recommended as officer candidate early in the summer.

Alaska

In the Seabees in Alaska is George Eagan, formerly of Arlington Heights. George used to be a butcher in the Jewel food store.

"I have met many fellows from around Arlington Heights but none from the town itself. I miss the Herald very much up here but hope to get it soon."

George's address is George W. Eagan, Sc 2-C, 8th Spec. Batt. Hdqrs. Co., Sec. 2, c-o Fleet P. M., San Francisco, Cal.

Bank nets $16

Traveling bank at Arlington Heights last week netted Sgt Wilbert Engelking $16. The bank now totals $1,673. This week Willard Schoepke, stationed at New York City, is the driver of the traveling pay car.

Tells complete story of European invasion battle

The following story, while not written by a local serviceman, does warrant publication. It is a composite of nineteen letters, covering the trip across, invasion of Sicily, and return. Time covered is June 10 to August 3. The writer is Lenward Burroughs of Birmingham, Alabama. He serves Uncle Sam's navy as a pharmacist's mate, second class.

AT SEA—ATLANTIC

"We checked out day before yesterday and everything is fine so far. I don't know whether or not you guessed it, but this is an invasion trip. From all indications it'll make the African invasion look like a Sunday school picnic. We haven't been told where we'll land but it'll probably be the worst place hit.

"They've promised us a nice leave when we get back, but I suspect that when we do return they'll need reinforcements and we'll return to Europe once more."

AT SEA—ATLANTIC

"So far, o. k. Not much excitement and the sea is very calm. We had a littl excitement when a supercharged enemy tanker was tracked down and caught, and one enemy sub was attracted.

"I've been awfully busy studying for my second class exam, which I took yesterday. I passed with 3.75.

"We had nice church services this morning and a soldier entertainment in the afternoon. The show was excellent as we have quite a few ex-professionals on board. We also have a Saturday Evening Post correspondent with us. Watch for his story of this ship.

"We still haven't been told where we'll land. My guesses are A and then B. A is friendly while B is enemy territory. I think A is Oran or Algiers, while B is Italy or some island close by. B will probably be Sicily, Sardinia or Corsica.-'

AT SEA—ATLANTIC

"Another day, another dollar. Or I should say 50 cents. Everything still fine though the subs are getting too thick for comfort. There have been 60 alarms in the last 24 hours and we have manned battle stations three times today. Evidently Mr. Hitler knows we're coming and is out to stop us. Pretty soon we'll have to pry the subs away with sticks.

"The work isn't very hard this trip. We've got those tough 'commando invaders' again and they are too tough to get sick.

"We were issued new fireproof bedding rolls. We have to put our entire bed (mattress, pillow, blankets and all) in the bag by 0800 every morning and can't take them out until night. It sure is a lot of trouble. Sorta think it is a personal conspiracy against me."

AT SEA—ATLANTIC

"We had a fire drill yesterday and right in the middle of it had a subsighted signal. It was a fine mess. Water running everywhere from the hoses all of us had dropped. We were on battle stations an hour before sunrise and an hour after sunset. Add two or three 30 minute daily alarms and you can see what we do with our time.

"I'll be glad when this invasion is over and we can relax. I eat like a horse and hold my weight pretty well so I guess a little hard work wouldn't hurt anyone.

"Yesterday morning we came upon a British patrol plane forced down. They were pretty glad to see us.

"Tomorrow is Sunday and I imagine it will be the hottest Sunday I've ever seen. We are about one day from the Rock and in about the hottest place of the war. Germany is supposed to be doing everything in her power to stop any and all allied ships. Every watertight door is shut. This ship is supposed to take three torpedoes without sinking but you never know. At least, I wouldn't want to try it."

ORAN, ALGERIA

"We have been in Oran the last few days and is it ever busy! All the men do is eat, sleep, and study invasion. There'll be no surprising them on this trip for the place is crawling with spies.

"The men on ship weren't allowed on shore. Now we are steaming up the coast to Algiers where they are to be given ten days final training. Meanwhile, we are having liberty in Oran, I hope.

"My A was right, but I don't think my B is. We'll probably strike from several places at once, Italy, Sardinia, Sicily, France and no telling what will happen directly from Great Britain. I'm glad to have a part in something as big as this.

"I will try to pick up some trinkets while in Oran but don't suppose I'll have much luck. The franc has gone up another penny, to three cents. Keep those I send home for they may be worth a quarter again some day."

AT SEA—MEDITERANEAN

"Lights, places, curtain . . . dress rehearsal is on. A ship of war and a rehearsal for death. Last night we invaded an Arab village on a bleak strip of desert. We did it with all the trimmings—smoke screens, barrage balloons, and exploding shells. Everything was realistic except there were no bullets coming at us.

"I stood watch all night, but we didn't have a single casualty. It is easy to see that this invasion will run off a lot smoother than the last one.

"Last night's leave was truly in Hollywood style. A band was playing, ARC girls and WACS were on hand with lots of lemonaide, and 4 or 5 newsreel cameramen were grinding away for 'European Invasion Forces Leave the States.' Watch for them and see if you can see my 'smiling, eager to meet the Axis' face.

ORAN

"Back in Oran. And is this town ever crowded! The army is in town, plus the Atlantic fleet. On top of this the Royal Navy, RAF, Free French and French army and navy are all here. This town is more crowded than Newark, N. J. ever was. Red Cross places are so crowded that you have to wait in line two blocks to get in. Natives are so few in comparison that they almost look like strangers.

"Was going swimming but decided not to. One of the better divers dove from a high cliff and hit a rock instead of the water. Compound skull fracture was the result. With blood and brains streaming out all over the place he was given 6 hours to live. Exit one unit of manpower. Too bad he was killed by his own foolishness instead of in action. That cliff was 50 feet high."

ORAN

"Still in Oran. Have changed my mind about the July 4 invasion. Better make it about July 10. Town is still crowded. When this is all over I'd like to make tour of this country in a jeep.

"Met a flier who had just flown in from the States via England and Casablanca. He said preparations there were terrific while New York looked like the proverbial deserted village. This thing must really be BIG!"

ORAN

"Zero hour is approaching. I don't feel any fear, but there is a lot of nervous tension in the minds of everyone. I don't worry about being sunk because most of the survivors will probably be picked up. And then there is survivors leave which I could stand having right now. Only trouble is, they've cut it to 15 days. Only thing that worries me is that the invasion may not be successful and I may be taken prisoner.

"Got word the Italian fleet had pulled out for parts unknown. Part of the British navy left here so there may be some fireworks if they corner Mussolini's men somewhere. Air attacks and sub attacks aren't so bad, but I dislike sea attacks. Our air protection is good, however.

"We pull out tomorrow night or Monday morning. We'll be three days and four nights from our beach. My guess is that it'll be the Italian mainland somewhere in the vicinity of Naples. By this time next week it should be all over."

AT SEA—MEDITERANEAN

"I have just completed the busiest 48 hours in my life. There were 700 cases of food poisoning aboard and our little 32 bed hospital took care of them all. What a job. We decided it was contaminated ice cream.

"We are under way between Oran and Sicily. Next Saturday, July 10, at 2:45 in the morning, Europe will be invaded. We are hitting the beach in southern Sicily near Vittoria. Mesdames Kennicott and Hilton spent Wednesday with relatives at Palatine.

Albert Brenton of Chicago visited his grandmother, Mrs. Hewitt, four days recently.

Gracie Bruhnke spent the last week of vacation with her cousin, Elsie, returning Monday.

Mrs. Julius Ahlenstorf and son, Orrin, of Capron, spent Sunday with her father, Henry Garms.

E. J. Scharringhausen and family spent Sunday with Herman Steinmeyer and family at Buttermilk Corners.

Miss Martha Rosenwinkel, of Melrose Park, has been visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thiemann.

Walter Gathman in company with his brothers, Frank of Elgin and Henry of Itasca, also Mr. Elmer Wild of Chicago, were guests of H. W. Scharringhausen and family Sunday.

S. E. Pate and wife and three sons visited his brother, Haddock Pate and family at Austin, Labor day. Mr. Pate and the school children had to return for business, but Mrs. Pate spent the week there.

Messrs. Henry and Eberhard Weinrich and Willie Guenther, Mesdames F. W. Geffert and Wm. Hinrichs with their families, also Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weinrich attended the wedding of their brother, Rev. Oscar Weinrich and Miss Lilly Griebenow in Milwaukee Sunday evening.

Schaumburg

Miss Edna Theiss spent a week's vacation at home.

Aug. Hattendorf and friends made a quick trip in their auto to Woodstock Sunday and had a good time.

F. Ebelin and friends of Chicago visited at Fred Volkening's Sunday and enjoyed fine auto rides. Come again.

F. W. Pfingsten and wife celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary September 3. A merry time was had; but not such an enormous crowd was invited as ten years ago.

Fri., Sept. 5, 1913

Palatine

Mr. and Mrs. John Wessel and baby returned to Kansas Wednesday night after having visited his relatives for three weeks.

N. Thompson and wife of Woodstock and Miss Mamie Torgler of Racine were guests of the Torgler's over Labor Day.

Miss Hazel Schroeder who came to Palatine with Mrs. John Wente and Mr. and Mrs. Giebel after their visit at her home has returned to her home in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Horn and Miss Nellie of Oak Park came to Palatine in their auto and spent Sunday and Labor day with Mrs. Clara Van Horn.

Mrs. J. D. Perry entertained her sister, Miss Agnes Monty over Labor day. Mr. and Mrs. Alva Perry of Chicago also spent the day in Palatine.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Plagge leave today for their home in Ames, Ia. Miss Gladys Ufford of Ames, who has come to Chicago to study music has been their guest the past week.

Misses Hattie Kuebler, Alma Bicknase, Margaret Godknecht, Mayme Williams, Sadie Voss, Delia Knigge and Gussie Olms were members of a house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor at Lena, Ill., Saturday to Monday.

Mr. Henry Schroeder, a resident of Palatine for 45 years, passed away on August 24, 1913, after a short illness of two weeks.

"Palatine Day" attracted largest crowd in its history on Saturday, August 29, 1913. The celebration was held at Deer Grove Park and the fireworks display was the big event of the day. The P. L. Z. & W. had arranged a good schedule giving 12 trains each way, but the crowds were so big that they were compelled to run extra trains. Paul Hildebrandt's colt won first prize of $10 offered by the Palatine Percheron Horse Company. Devoe, with his candy and teddy bears, completed the picnic by being the center of attraction for about two hours and of course in that time, was sold out.

Palatine's new school house was dedicated and turned over to the children of the present generation on September 1, 1913. Hundreds of people participated in the impressive ceremonies, including many school officials from surrounding towns, who praised the fine construction work done on the building.

Payment rate set for cooperators in '43 program

Cook county farmers who cooperate with the AAA in 1943 will be paid at the rate of three cents a bushel on the allotted acres of corn, based on normal yields. In the case of wheat, the rate will be eight and one-half cents a bushel, and for cotton, one cent a pound.

Known as production adjustment payments, formerly agricultural conservation payments, they will be made regardless of the acreage of corn and wheat planted, if the cooperator meets 90 per cent of his war crop goal except as prevented by weather conditions, Mr. Carl Bormet, county chairman of the AAA, said.

In addition, cooperators earn a production practive or soil-building allowance for completing recommended practices, such as spreading limestone and phosphate, contour farming, terracing, pacture improvement and construction of grass waterways.

A check of performance will be made in most counties between now and early October. The farmer will determine the acreage in the various crops and report them to his local committeeman, along with the division of crops, soil-building practices performed and the contribution made by each party to each practice. Where practices have not been completed, the committeemen will furnish the farmer a blank to fill out and send in to the county AAA office when all practices are completed. The 1943 AAA program year will end December 31, 1943.

Farmers may use any reasonably accurate method of determining acreages of the various crops that they are accustomed to, Mr. Carl Bormet said. This method of checking performance should save time for both the farmer and the local committeemen and should be reasonably accurate and economical.

BUYS HOLSTEIN

A registered Holstein-Friesian cow in the dairy herd owned by Ray E. Meyer, Roselle, has recently completed a 365-day production record of 681 pounds of butterfat and 17,142 pounds of milk, The Holstein-Friesian Association of America announces. This is more than 3½ times the production of the average dairy cow in the nation.

Her official name is Aljoan Ormsby Pontiac. She was milked twice daily and was 7 years 6 months of age when she began her test period.

Testing was supervised by the University of Illinois in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Herds free from mastitis deserve wartime citation

"For distinguished service in combating the enemy on a vital sector of the home front," would read the citation if any were given — for Eli Yoder, Douglas county farmer, whose herd of 11 dairy cows has just been found free from mastitis.

This disease, who cuts milk production by as much as 20 per cent and may eventually destroy the udder, has been under attack by the State Department of Agriculture and the University of Illinois College of Agriculture to help maintain milk supplies both for soldiers and civilians.

Also known as "garget" or "caked udder," mastitis is an inflammation of the udder caused by bacteria which enter through the teat canal. Few herds escape the chronic form of the disease which is mild but persistent, causing a gradual hardening of the udder and loss of one or more quarters.

A representative from the laboratory of the department of animal pathology and hygiene at Urbana demonstrates stable tests for mastitis and collects milk samples for testing from herds selected through the cooperation of county farm advisers. Local veterinarians, who work with the representative in the initial testing of herds, can effectively treat animals in the early stages of the disease. Latest information regarding treatment will be discussed in the war emergency Illinois Veterinary conference at the University of Illinois on October 6.

Yoder's is the first Douglas county demonstration herd found to be free from mastitis which, in some cases, is found in 75 per cent of the cows in a single herd. The disease could be controlled if all dairymen would test their cows and dispose of reactors.

Now is time for vaccinating against fowl-pox

"Now is the time to safeguard next winter's egg production by vaccinating flocks against fowl-pox, especially on farms where outbreaks of this disease have occurred," advises the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Fowl-pox often occurs during the winter months and is commonly referred to as canker or sore mouth. Birds suffering from this disease go down in egg production and lose weight. Serious cases may end fatally.

As a war emergency measure, a new vaccine is being distributed from the department. This new product was tested on more than 25,000 chickens last year to demonstrate its practicability. It is not however, recommended for use in flocks where fowl-pox has not appeared.

Details about obtaining the vaccine may be had from the county farm adviser or from the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Agricultural Country

China is probably the oldest and largest agricultural country in the world. The total area of farm land is 232 million acres, which supports as large a population as 450 million.

To broadcast boys' farm camp closing on WLS

The four hundred or more boys from Chicago who worked on vegetable farms in Cook county are "graduating" at the second WLS Barn Dance broadcast from the 8th Street Theatre Saturday, September 11 beginning at 10:30 p. m.

Boys who stayed in camp for three weeks and worked on farms are to be given a Certificate of Award by Dean Rusk of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

"These boys," stated Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, "were located in four camps in Cook county. The Jewish camp was located in the CCC camp north of Des Plaines at Dam No. 2. The Boy Scouts were at Camp Fort Dearborn, Higgins and River rds. The CYO camp was on U. S. 83 in Palos township. The Thornton camp, open to everyone and under the direction of the CYO, was located near Thornton in a CCC camp. The cooperation of these social agencies, along with the Forest Preserve of Cook County and the United States Employment Service, kept these camps in operation. They are unique in that it is the first time a large group of Chicago boys have worked on farms for a long period of time. Frequently large groups of boys have worked for a couple of weeks detasseling corn or picking cherries, but none have done laborious, dirty work such as weeding onions, and vegetable crop harvesting. These boys deserve particular credit for the excellent work they performed. Some of the larger growers in Cook county hired these youngsters, and liked them.

"There were many problems that had to be overcome in the operation of these camps before they got to running smoothly. The National Barn Dance program will be devoted to a celebration of the work the boys have done in 1943."

Vegetable salads have real place in summer meals

If you need something to give you a lift to late summer meals, look to vegetable salads, is the advice of Miss Jean Chase, home economist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Fresh, crisp vegetables right from your victory garden call for no ration points, are quick to prepare, easy to serve and packed with valuable minerals and vitamins.

One salad combination that is always popular and which can be counted on to satisfy the heartiest of appetites is the "Supper Salad Bowl." While the ingredients may be varied to suit family tastes, here is a good basis for selection. Combine one cup of left-over cooked vegetables — peas, string beans or limas — with six young green onions cut in one-inch pieces, six radishes sliced thinly, about a cup of slivered raw carrots and two or three kinds of greens — lettuce, watercress, escarole, or spinach. Add a cup of slivered Amercian or Swiss cheese and a cup of shredded cold meat — tongue, ham, salomi or bologna. Pour over a tomato dressing, made with ½ cup tomato juice and grated onion, salt and dry mustard for seasoning. Beat with an egg beater.

If you want a mixed vegetable salad to accompany your meal, try arranging the "makings" on a tray: sliced tomatoes and cucumbers along the sides of the tray, greens heaped in the center and radishes on a bed of watercress at one end. Leftover vegetables, such as broccoli or cauliflower, could also be added. Each member of the family will fill his salad bowl with whatever appeals to him and pour over a well-mixed French dressing made with ¼ cup vinegar or legon juice and 3-4 cup salad oil, adding salt, pepper, dry mustard and grated onion.

A different kind of a salad, but one that is equally good, is hot potato salad. Make it with delicious new potatoes from your garden. Cut three slices of bacon into small pieces and fry. Remove bacon and add to the remaining fat ¼ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon of sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt and ½ teaspoon pepper. Bring to a boil. In the meantime heat 2 cups cubed potatoes in the top of a double boiler with 4 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley and 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped. Pour the hot vinegar mixture over potatoes, toss well and keep hot in the double boiler until ready to serve.

Make Straw Hats in U. S.

Straw-hat making has become a large domestic industry. Baltimore factories have put that city first in U. S. production, though the industry began in Massachusetts in 1804.

Fifteen years ago —

Arlington Heights

Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frederick took a trip by auto to Cincinnati over Labor day.

Mr. Everett Brown and son, from Grinnell, Iowa, visited over Labor day with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Brown, and sister, Mrs. Burton Noyes.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Genevieve Mueller and Mr. Willard Pate, to take place September 8.

Miss Kealey went to South Haven to spend the week-end and holiday with Mrs. Huldah Beth.

Mrs. James Wayman and her children visited her sister at Des Plaines, Monday this week.

Miss Dorothy Noyes, who returned from her summer course in teachers college at Boulder, Colorado, and an outing tour in the Yellowstone Park, will leave here this week-end for Ann Arbor, Michigan, where she has a position as teacher of mathematics in the public school of that city.

Mrs. Levi Heap and daughter, Verna, spent three days last week visiting her parents and other relatives in Chicago.

Wood Dale

Little Esther Dettman is staying at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edwin Franzen while her mother was operated on and Violet Dettman is also very sick at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eickelman in Bensenville.

Mallie Bauman and Mrs. Wm. Scheidel, and Ann went to Ohio, Illinois, Saturday and arrived home Monday night after a pleasant visit.

Mrs. Elizabeth Heinrich gave birth to a bouncing baby boy last week. Mother and son are doing nicely. Neighbors and friends join in wishing them much joy and happiness.

Bensenville

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutherland will leave about the 15th for Hot Springs, Arkansas where they will spend their vacation. Frank is an engineer on the Milwaukee railroad and working steady as he does call for a rest occasionally.

The C. J. Petersen family have finally become permanently established in Itasca. The last of their household goods were transferred to their new home last week, so that means that Bensenville has lost another family.

Miss Mary Sullivan, who has been vacationing in Michigan ever since the early part of July, is back in Bensenville again. It is not certain whether she will remain here or not, but all her friends are hoping for the best. Mary arrived in town last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Eigenfelt, of Milwaukee were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lemke, the latter's parents.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Kingmeier of Edison Park and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heim of Chicago drove out to visit the Heim family.

Northbrook

Mrs. Ben Schildgen, who has been very sick at the Wheeling hospital is getting along nicely. She and the new baby are expected home soon.

Rumor has it that Mr. Tom Wagner and Miss Brumm were married last week. Congratulations and best wishes for a bright and happy future are the sincere wishes of their many friends.

Mrs. Barbara Hollander was a lucky winner of a dandy tricycle for her son at the Palatine fair on Labor Day.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Sylvia Dohle and Clarence Boundy of Elgin. The Dohle family were former residents of Itasca.

Ethel Franzen is injoying her annual two week's vacation the first of which was spent at Eleanor Camp on Lake Geneva.

Wheeling

The Misses Winifred, Marjorie and Elaine Mohr, spent part of last week with their grandparents at Des Plaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schwab and Mr. Anthony Gerschefske visited Mr. and Mrs. John Reeb at Madison, Wisconsin last week-end.

Mrs. Geo. Sicks and son, John, returned to their home last Friday, accompanied by the Peter Triller family of Indianapolis, with whom they have spent the past six weeks.

Mrs. H. C. Wick and daughter, Fritzi, surprised their friends by returning to Wheeling last week, their stay in Germany being considerably shorter than anticipated.

Mr. Christ Wendling and daughter, Elsie, are again staying in the old home.

Mesdames Kennicott and Hilton spent Wednesday with relatives at Palatine.

Gracie Bruhnke spent the last week of vacation with her cousin, Elsie, returning Monday.

Mrs. Julius Ahlenstorf and son, Orrin, of Capron, spent Sunday with her father, Henry Garms.

E. J. Scharringhausen and family spent Sunday with Herman Steinmeyer and family at Buttermilk Corners.

Miss Martha Rosenwinkel, of Melrose Park, has been visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thiemann.

Walter Gathman in company with his brothers, Frank of Elgin and Henry of Itasca, also Mr. Elmer Wild of Chicago, were guests of H. W. Scharringhausen and family Sunday.

S. E. Pate and wife and three sons visited his brother, Haddock Pate and family at Austin, Labor day. Mr. Pate and the school children had to return for business, but Mrs. Pate spent the week there.

Messrs. Henry and Eberhard Weinrich and Willie Guenther, Mesdames F. W. Geffert and Wm. Hinrichs with their families, also Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weinrich attended the wedding of their brother, Rev. Oscar Weinrich and Miss Lilly Griebenow in Milwaukee Sunday evening.

Schaumburg

Miss Edna Theiss spent a week's vacation at home.

Aug. Hattendorf and friends made a quick trip in their auto to Woodstock Sunday and had a good time.

F. Ebelin and friends of Chicago visited at Fred Volkening's Sunday and enjoyed fine auto rides. Come again.

F. W. Pfingsten and wife celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary September 3. A merry time was had; but not such an enormous crowd was invited as ten years ago.

Fri., Sept. 5, 1913

Palatine

Mr. and Mrs. John Wessel and baby returned to Kansas Wednesday night after having visited his relatives for three weeks.

N. Thompson and wife of Woodstock and Miss Mamie Torgler of Racine were guests of the Torgler's over Labor Day.

Payment rate set for cooperators in '43 program

Cook county farmers who cooperate with the AAA in 1943 will be paid at the rate of three cents a bushel on the allotted acres of corn, based on normal yields. In the case of wheat, the rate will be eight and one-half cents a bushel, and for cotton, one cent a pound.

Known as production adjustment payments, formerly agricultural conservation payments, they will be made regardless of the acreage of corn and wheat planted, if the cooperator meets 90 per cent of his war crop goal except as prevented by weather conditions, Mr. Carl Bormet, county chairman of the AAA, said.

In addition, cooperators earn a production practive or soil-building allowance for completing recommended practices, such as spreading limestone and phosphate, contour farming, terracing, pacture improvement and construction of grass waterways.

A check of performance will be made in most counties between now and early October. The farmer will determine the acreage in the various crops and report them to his local committeeman, along with the division of crops, soil-building practices performed and the contribution made by each party to each practice. Where practices have not been completed, the committeemen will furnish the farmer a blank to fill out and send in to the county AAA office when all practices are completed. The 1943 AAA program year will end December 31, 1943.

Farmers may use any reasonably accurate method of determining acreages of the various crops that they are accustomed to, Mr. Carl Bormet said. This method of checking performance should save time for both the farmer and the local committeemen and should be reasonably accurate and economical.

BUYS HOLSTEIN

A registered Holstein-Friesian cow in the dairy herd owned by Ray E. Meyer, Roselle, has recently completed a 365-day production record of 681 pounds of butterfat and 17,142 pounds of milk, The Holstein-Friesian Association of America announces. This is more than 3½ times the production of the average dairy cow in the nation.

Her official name is Aljoan Ormsby Pontiac. She was milked twice daily and was 7 years 6 months of age when she began her test period.

Testing was supervised by the University of Illinois in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Herds free from mastitis deserve wartime citation

"For distinguished service in combating the enemy on a vital sector of the home front," would read the citation if any were given — for Eli Yoder, Douglas county farmer, whose herd of 11 dairy cows has just been found free from mastitis.

This disease, who cuts milk production by as much as 20 per cent and may eventually destroy the udder, has been under attack by the State Department of Agriculture and the University of Illinois College of Agriculture to help maintain milk supplies both for soldiers and civilians.

Also known as "garget" or "caked udder," mastitis is an inflammation of the udder caused by bacteria which enter through the teat canal. Few herds escape the chronic form of the disease which is mild but persistent, causing a gradual hardening of the udder and loss of one or more quarters.

A representative from the laboratory of the department of animal pathology and hygiene at Urbana demonstrates stable tests for mastitis and collects milk samples for testing from herds selected through the cooperation of county farm advisers. Local veterinarians, who work with the representative in the initial testing of herds, can effectively treat animals in the early stages of the disease. Latest information regarding treatment will be discussed in the war emergency Illinois Veterinary conference at the University of Illinois on October 6.

Yoder's is the first Douglas county demonstration herd found to be free from mastitis which, in some cases, is found in 75 per cent of the cows in a single herd. The disease could be controlled if all dairymen would test their cows and dispose of reactors.

Now is time for vaccinating against fowl-pox

"Now is the time to safeguard next winter's egg production by vaccinating flocks against fowl-pox, especially on farms where outbreaks of this disease have occurred," advises the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Fowl-pox often occurs during the winter months and is commonly referred to as canker or sore mouth. Birds suffering from this disease go down in egg production and lose weight. Serious cases may end fatally.

As a war emergency measure, a new vaccine is being distributed from the department. This new product was tested on more than 25,000 chickens last year to demonstrate its practicability. It is not however, recommended for use in flocks where fowl-pox has not appeared.

Details about obtaining the vaccine may be had from the county farm adviser or from the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

To brodcast boys' farm camp closing on WLS

The four hundred or more boys from Chicago who worked on vegetable farms in Cook county are "graduating" at the second WLS Barn Dance broadcast from the 8th Street Theatre Saturday, September 11 beginning at 10:30 p. m.

Boys who stayed in camp for three weeks and worked on farms are to be given a Certificate of Award by Dean Rusk of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

"These boys," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, "were located in four camps in Cook county. The Jewish camp was located in the CCC camp north of Des Plaines at Dam No. 2. The Boy Scouts were at Camp Fort Dearborn, Higgins and River rds. The CYO camp was on U. S. 83 in Palos township. The Thornton camp, open to everyone and under the direction of the CYO, was located near Thornton in a CCC camp. The cooperation of these social agencies, along with the Forest Preserve of Cook County and the United States Employment Service, kept these camps in operation. They are unique in that it is the first time a large group of Chicago boys have worked on farms for a long period of time. Frequently large groups of boys have worked for a couple of weeks detasseling corn or picking cherries, but none have done laborious, dirty work such as weeding onions, and vegetable crop harvesting. These boys deserve particular credit for the excellent work they performed. Some of the larger growers in Cook county hired these youngsters, and liked them.

"There were many problems that had to be overcome in the operation of these camps before they got to running smoothly. The National Barn Dance program will be devoted to a celebration of the work the boys have done in 1943."

Vegetable salads have real place in summer meals

If you need something to give you a lift to late summer meals, look to vegetable salads, is the advice of Miss Jean Chase, home economist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Fresh, crisp vegetables right from your victory garden call for no ration points, are quick to prepare, easy to serve and packed with valuable minerals and vitamins.

One salad combination that is always popular and which can be counted on to satisfy the heartiest of appetites is the "Supper Salad Bowl." While the ingredients may be varied to suit family tastes, here is a good basis for selection. Combine one cup of left-over cooked vegetables — peas, string beans or limas — with six young green onions cut in one-inch pieces, six radishes sliced thinly, about a cup of slivered raw carrots and two or three kinds of greens — lettuce, watercress, escarole, or spinach. Add a cup of slivered Amercian or Swiss cheese and a cup of shredded cold meat — tongue, ham, salomi or bologna. Pour over a tomato dressing, made with ½ cup tomato juice and grated onion, salt and dry mustard for seasoning. Beat with an egg beater.

If you want a mixed vegetable salad to accompany your meal, try arranging the "makings" on a tray: sliced tomatoes and cucumbers along the sides of the tray, greens heaped in the center and radishes on a bed of watercress at one end. Leftover vegetables, such as broccoli or cauliflower, could also be added. Each member of the family will fill his salad bowl with whatever appeals to him and pour over a well-mixed French dressing made with ¼ cup vinegar or legon juice and 3-4 cup salad oil, adding salt, pepper, dry mustard and grated onion.

A different kind of a salad, but one that is equally good, is hot potato salad. Make it with delicious new potatoes from your garden. Cut three slices of bacon into small pieces and fry. Remove bacon and add to the remaining fat ¼ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon of sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt and ½ teaspoon pepper. Bring to a boil. In the meantime heat 2 cups cubed potatoes in the top of a double boiler with 4 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley and 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped. Pour the hot vinegar mixture over potatoes, toss well and keep hot in the double boiler until ready to serve.

Make Straw Hats in U. S.

Straw-hat making has become a large domestic industry. Baltimore factories have put that city first in U. S. production, though the industry began in Massachusetts in 1804.

Fifteen years ago —

Fri., Sept. 7, 1928

Arlington Heights

Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frederick took a trip by auto to Cincinnati over Labor day.

Mr. Everett Brown and son, from Grinnell, Iowa, visited over Labor day with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Brown, and sister, Mrs. Burton Noyes.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Genevieve Mueller and Mr. Willard Pate, to take place September 8.

Miss Kealey went to South Haven to spend the week-end and holiday with Mrs. Huldah Beth.

Mrs. James Wayman and her children visited her sister at Des Plaines, Monday this week.

Miss Dorothy Noyes, who returned from her summer course in teachers college at Boulder, Colorado, and an outing tour in the Yellowstone Park, will leave here this week-end for Ann Arbor, Michigan, where she has a position as teacher of mathematics in the public school of that city.

Mrs. Levi Heap and daughter, Verna, spent three days last week visiting her parents and other relatives in Chicago.

Wood Dale

Little Esther Dettman is staying at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edwin Franzen while her mother was operated on and Violet Dettman is also very sick at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eickelman in Bensenville.

Mallie Bauman and Mrs. Wm. Scheidel, and Ann went to Ohio, Illinois, Saturday and arrived home Monday night after a pleasant visit.

Mrs. Elizabeth Heinrich gave birth to a bouncing baby boy last week. Mother and son are doing nicely. Neighbors and friends join in wishing them much joy and happiness.

Mrs. Willis Brown, of Wood Dale has been named Wood Dale chairman for the twelfth annual roll call of the American Red Cross, according to James B. Forgan, Jr., chairman of the Chicago chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Benninger returned from Pittsburgh, Pa., where they were spending their vacation with their mother, Mrs. Wm. Pfischner. They attended the funeral of State Senator Edward E. Pfischner of Millvale, Pa., a cousin of Mrs. O. F. Benninger.

Fri., Sept. 7, 1928

Bensenville

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutherland will leave about the 15th for Hot Springs, Arkansas where they will spend their vacation. Frank is an engineer on the Milwaukee railroad and working steady as he does call for a rest occasionally.

The C. J. Petersen family have finally become permanently established in Itasca. The last of their household goods were transferred to their new home last week, so that means that Bensenville has lost another family.

Miss Mary Sullivan, who has been vacationing in Michigan ever since the early part of July, is back in Bensenville again. It is not certain whether she will remain here or not, but all her friends are hoping for the best. Mary arrived in town last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Eigenfelt, of Milwaukee were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lemke, the latter's parents.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Kingmeier of Edison Park and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heim of Chicago drove out to visit the Heim family.

Northbrook

Mrs. Ben Schildgen, who has been very sick at the Wheeling hospital is getting along nicely. She and the new baby are expected home soon.

Rumor has it that Mr. Tom Wagner and Miss Brumm were married last week. Congratulations and best wishes for a bright and happy future are the sincere wishes of their many friends.

Mrs. Barbara Hollander was a lucky winner of a dandy tricycle for her son at the Palatine fair on Labor Day.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Sylvia Dohle and Clarence Boundy of Elgin. The Dohle family were former residents of Itasca.

Ethel Franzen is injoying her annual two week's vacation the first of which was spent at Eleanor Camp on Lake Geneva.

Wheeling

The Misses Winifred, Marjorie and Elaine Mohr, spent part of last week with their grandparents at Des Plaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schwab and Mr. Anthony Gerschefske visited Mr. and Mrs. John Reeb at Madison, Wisconsin last week-end.

Mrs. Geo. Sicks and son, John, returned to their home last Friday, accompanied by the Peter Triller family of Indianapolis, with whom they have spent the past six weeks.

Mrs. H. C. Wick and daughter, Fritzi, surprised their friends by returning to Wheeling last week, their stay in Germany being considerably shorter than anticipated.

Mr. Christ Wendling and daughter, Elsie, are again staying in the old home.

Seek method of control in milk consumption

Constant increase cuts butter and cheese production here

Number one problem of the dairy front today is the threat to civilian supplies of butter, cheese, and evaporated milk which has arisen from the continually increasing consumption of fluid milk, the War Food Administration indicated September 3 in a prepared statement on the dairy situation.

With more people using more fluid milk — the only major dairy product not under distribution control — this milk is available for the production of essential manufactured dairy products, the WFA said.

Total milk output has been increased almost 10 billion pounds since 1940, but is now at about the highest level which can be expected under present conditions. Although milk production has leveled off and may decline somewhat more than seasonally, consumption of fluid milk is continuing to increase steadily—at the rate of about one percent a month. This is resulting in the encroachment on milk supplies which ordinarily go into the manufacture of war-important dairy products. It also has resulted in an intense competition for supplies among fluid milk dealers and the consequent disruption in normal marketing practices.

If fluid milk consumption can be prevented from rising further, WFA officials said, butter production this year may be maintained at about the same level as last year. Production of American cheese, evaporated milk, and dried skim milk, however, already has declined and may be 20 percent smaller than in 1942.

The War Food Administration is now working on a plan to control fluid milk sales which has as its primary purpose the prevention of further increases in milk sales, WFA officials emphasized, not the curtailment of milk consumption below recent levels. The plan does not involve point rationing.

Fluid milk and cream consumption so far in 1943 is the highest on record. Sales this year are more than 20 percent above what they were in 1941 and 10 to 12 per cent above those for 1942.

Total milk production through July, on the other hand, was about the same as for the first 7 months of last year. Milk output during 1942 reached an all-time high of slightly more than 119 billion pounds. Milk production always declines during the fall and winter, but the seasonal decline this year may be sharper than last year's. The number of dairy cows on farms has increased but production per cow is lower than last year.

Of the 118 billion pounds expected to be produced during 1943, about 58 billion pounds will remain on the nation's farms, will be sold at retail by the farmers, or be farm separated and the cream sold for butter manufacture.

The remaining 60 billion pounds is being shipped as whole milk and from this portion must come almost all the fluid milk, cream and milk drinks which Americans consume, and all the cheese, evaporated and condensed milk, whole milk powder and ice cream needed to meet civilian, military and other wartime demands, and a part of commercial butter production. In addition to the farm-separated cream that goes into butter, almost one-tenth of this 60 billion pounds of whole milk is expected to be made into butter and skim milk powder.

The following table shows the estimated breakdown for the 60 billion pounds of whole milk expected to be available this year, if fluid milk consumption is pegged at current levels.

From 60 billion pounds of whole milk shipped off farms:

	Billion Lbs.
Fluid milk	28.5
Fluid cream	4.8
Ice Cream	4.2
Dry whole milk	1.0
Concentrated milk (evap. & condensed)	6.8
Cheese	9.3
Butter and skim milk pow.	5.4
Total	60.0

The equivalent of approximately 14 billion of these 60 billion pounds will go for military and other war uses, leaving about 46 billion pounds for civilian consumption. Of this 46 billion pounds 32 billion will go for fluid uses; 14 billion for manufactured dairy products.

Should fluid milk consumption expand still further, production of cheese, butter, evaporated milk and other dairy foods would decline below the amounts necessary to meet essential civilian requirements.

The WFA has been and is continuing to urge farmers to ship more whole milk to market. The Government is assisting in financing the construction of milk powder plants in strategic areas to provide farmers with a ready market. In view of the shortage of feed in many areas, however, many farmers find it more profitable or more necessary to use the skim milk on the farm, selling the cream to a local creamery. A large volume of milk, moreover, probably will continue to be retained on the farm for various uses or to be sold at retail by the farmer himself.

New heating

Improved heating plans for apartments and homes of the future went into a nationwide blueprint stage this week with announcement that the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company will conduct a $10,000 competition for the best heating designs intended for a sample apartment house blueprinted especially for the contest.

John E. Haines, manager of the space heating controls division of the company, predicted that after the war self-controlled heat will be as common as the electric refrigerator, and will be demanded and integral part of all apartment houses. A survey of approximately 1,000 apartment dwellers in large cities, disclosed that 84 per cent believe it is either necessary or desirable to have their own control over the amount of heat supplied to their living quarters. Zone heating, in brief, means that any apartment dweller will be able to control the amount of heat supplied to his apartment without dependency or even thought as to what other tenants require.

Home front pledge

A nation-wide, cooperative campaign by homemakers and merchants to hold down the cost of living and combat black markets is being conducted by volunteer civic committees in more than 100 communities through local drives to secure signers for a "Home Front" pledge. Nearly one million pledges have been signed already. Those signing agree (1) "I will pay no more than top legal prices" and (2) "I will accept no rationed goods without giving up ration stamps."

Prunes, raisins

Dried and dehydrated prunes and raisins were restored to rationing September 5. Values were placed at four points per pound. Allocations of dried prunes and raisins to Government agencies will be large. However, the balance of raisins and dried prunes available from the year's production for civilian distribution is expected to be over 90 percent of the average annual civilian supply for a five-year period preceding rationing.

Vegetables

In shopping for fresh foods, "eye" appeal is "buy" appeal. Joe Tonkin, Federal Food Reporter for the War Food Administration, reports that on his tours this week of the Chicago wholesale produce market, he saw plenty of ripe, red tomatoes and golden sweet corn. Both of them are low priced. Some of our best-dressed salads these days are wearing slices of tomato —and of course, corn is an old favorite on American dinner tables. The two go well together, too. Corn cut off the cob and stewed with tomatoes makes a tasty accompaniment to the main course at luncheon or dinner.

Michigan celery of fair quality is now selling at a price somewhat lower than last week's quotations. Spinach also is cheaper than it has been for the past few weeks. Potatoes—another reliable standby—continue high in food value and low in cost. And for that "different" vegetable, try some of the squash now appearing on the market in increased quantity. Squash prices are very moderate, and half an Acorn squash is just right for one serving.

Cucumbers, suitable for slicing, are still to be found at the market in large quantities under a low price tag.

Apples are the fruit of the moment. Supplies are plentiful, prices are lower than those of other fruits, but Moore's Early and Champion grapes from Michigan are now appearing on the market at a reasonable figure.

Farm bond quota

Farmers have a war bond quota of 1½ billion dollars in the 15 billion dollar third war loan drive which begins September 9 and continues through the month. During the campaign, canvassers expect to call upon at least 3,600,000 of the nation's 6 million farm homes. Farmers' income figures point to big bond subscriptions. It is estimated that their cash income from marketings will be 19 billion dollars this year.

Hay loaders

Used hay loaders, side delivery rakes, and manure spreaders were recently placed under specific price control by OPA. This ruling applies when these items are sold by any persons, such as farmers or auctioneers. Maximum prices will be determined on the following basis; 85 percent of the price of the machine when new, if the equipment is less than one year old, and 70 percent of the price of the item when new, if the equipment is one year old or more.

Nurses

Funds have been approved to provide complete tuition, fees, stipends, maintenance and uniforms for an anticipated 10,175 student members of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps. Over 500 state accredited schools of nursing have applied to the U. S. Public Health Service for participation in the program. To date, 67 have been approved.

Lumber

A program to increase sharply the production of forest products from farm-owned woodlands as part of the nationwide drive to meet wartime military and essential civilian needs for lumber was announced recently by the War Food Administration. It is estimated that 3½ million farms have woodlands, most of which can yield marketable products. Minimum national requirements for lumber in 1943 total 36 billion board feet. Of this amount, 2½ billion board feet are needed for boxing and crating agricultural products.

Point changes

Reflecting an improvement in civilian meat supplies, the ration cost of most lamb and bacon cuts, sirloin steak, and rib roasts has been reduced from one to two points for September. In addition, several variety meats also have lower point values. Creamery butter increased two points to 12 points per pound. Country butter, however, has been assigned a value of six points per pound. The purchasing power of meats-fats stamps in September will be a little larger than in August because the decrease in meat point values more than cancels the higher ration cost of creamery butter.

Straw

Farmers in the straw-producing areas will be urged to make straw available to strawboard manufacturers to enable them to keep up with very heavy requirements for shipping containers for military forces and essential civilian uses. The War Production Board is cooperating with the War Food Administration in a program designed to increase straw collection in midwestern states. Due to heavy rains and flood conditions this spring, much of the available straw crop was destroyed. State and County War Boards are expected to assist strawboard manufacturers in locating available straw.

Sun heat

Results of a year's study of solar heating and "daylight engineering" by the Illinois Institute of Technology in cooperation with the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company reveal that the world's oldest heating unit—the sun—may successfully be harnessed in post war building to serve as an auxiliary source of winter warmth.

The study of a solar home in the Chicago suburbs, brought out that rays of the sun, filtering through multiple-glazed windows —which sandwich a sealed-in, dehydrated air space between panes to form a type of glass known to engineers as thermoplane — supplied enough heat, even in sub-zero temperatures, to make additional heating unnecessary during daylight hours.

The engineers revealed that one January day, when outside temperatures ranged to 17 degrees below zero, the interior temperatures rose above 85 degrees with the furnace automatically shut off and not in operation between 8:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. A material reduction in fuel bills was reported.

Seek method of control in milk consumption

Constant increase cuts butter and cheese production here

Number one problem of the dairy front today is the threat to civilian supplies of butter, cheese, and evaporated milk which has arisen from the continually increasing consumption of fluid milk, the War Food Administration indicated September 3 in a prepared statement on the dairy situation.

With more people using more fluid milk — the only major dairy product not under distribution control — this milk is available for the production of essential manufactured dairy products, the WFA said.

Total milk output has been increased almost 10 billion pounds since 1940, but is now at about the highest level which can be expected under present conditions. Although milk production has leveled off and may decline somewhat more than seasonally, consumption of fluid milk is continuing to increase steadily—at the rate of about one percent a month. This is resulting in the encroachment on milk supplies which ordinarily go into the manufacture of war-important dairy products. It also has resulted in an intense competition for supplies among fluid milk dealers and the consequent disruption in normal marketing practices.

If fluid milk consumption can be prevented from rising further, WFA officials said, butter production this year may be maintained at about the same level as last year. Production of American cheese, evaporated milk, and dried skim milk, however, already has declined and may be 20 percent smaller than in 1942.

The War Food Administration is now working on a plan to control fluid milk sales which has as its primary purpose the prevention of further increases in milk sales, WFA officials emphasized, not the curtailment of milk consumption below recent levels. The plan does not involve point rationing.

Fluid milk and cream consumption so far in 1943 is the highest on record. Sales this year are more than 20 percent above what they were in 1941 and 10 to 12 per cent above those for 1942.

Total milk production through July, on the other hand, was about the same as for the first 7 months of last year. Milk output during 1942 reached an all-time high of slightly more than 119 billion pounds. Milk production always declines during the fall and winter, but the seasonal decline this year may be sharper than last year's. The number of dairy cows on farms has increased but production per cow is lower than last year.

Of the 118 billion pounds expected to be produced during 1943, about 58 billion pounds will remain on the nation's farms, will be sold at retail by the farmers, or be farm separated and the cream sold for butter manufacture.

The remaining 60 billion pounds is being shipped as whole milk and from this portion must come almost all the fluid milk, cream and milk drinks which Americans consume, and all the cheese, evaporated and condensed milk, whole milk powder and ice cream needed to meet civilian, military and other wartime demands, and a part of commercial butter production. In addition to the farm-separated cream that goes into butter, almost one-tenth of this 60 billion pounds of whole milk is expected to be made into butter and skim milk powder.

The following table shows the estimated breakdown for the 60 billion pounds of whole milk expected to be available this year, if fluid milk consumption is pegged at current levels.

From 60 billion pounds of whole milk shipped off farms:

	Billion Lbs.
Fluid milk	28.5
Fluid cream	4.8
Ice Cream	4.2
Dry whole milk	1.0
Concentrated milk (evap. & condensed)	6.8
Cheese	9.3
Butter and skim milk pow.	5.4
Total	60.0

The equivalent of approximately 14 billion of these 60 billion pounds will go for military and other war uses, leaving about 46 billion pounds for civilian consumption. Of this 46 billion pounds 32 billion will go for fluid uses; 14 billion for manufactured dairy products.

Should fluid milk consumption expand still further, production of cheese, butter, evaporated milk and other dairy foods would decline below the amounts necessary to meet essential civilian requirements.

The WFA has been and is continuing to urge farmers to ship more whole milk to market. The Government is assisting in financing the construction of milk powder plants in strategic areas to provide farmers with a ready market. In view of the shortage of feed in many areas, however, many farmers find it more profitable or more necessary to use the skim milk on the farm, selling the cream to a local creamery. A large volume of milk, moreover, probably will continue to be retained on the farm for various uses or to be sold at retail by the farmer himself.

Prunes, raisins

Dried and dehydrated prunes and raisins were restored to rationing September 5. Values were placed at four points per pound. Allocations of dried prunes and raisins to Government agencies will be large. However, the balance of raisins and dried prunes available from the year's production for civilian distribution is expected to be over 90 percent of the average annual civilian supply for a five-year period preceding rationing.

Vegetables

In shopping for fresh foods, "eye" appeal is "buy" appeal. Joe Tonkin, Federal Food Reporter for the War Food Administration, reports that on his tours this week of the Chicago wholesale produce market, he saw plenty of ripe, red tomatoes and golden sweet corn. Both of them are low priced. Some of our best-dressed salads these days are wearing slices of tomato —and of course, corn is an old favorite on American dinner tables. The two go well together, too. Potatoes—another reliable standby—continue high in food value and low in cost. And for that "different" vegetable, try some of the squash now appearing on the market in increased quantity. Squash prices are very moderate, and half an Acorn squash is just right for one serving.

Cucumbers, suitable for slicing, are still to be found at the market in large quantities under a low price tag.

Apples are the fruit of the moment. Supplies are plentiful, prices are lower than those of other fruits, but Moore's Early and Champion grapes from Michigan are now appearing on the market at a reasonable figure.

Farm bond quota

Farmers have a war bond quota of 1½ billion dollars in the 15 billion dollar third war loan drive which begins September 9 and continues through the month. During the campaign, canvassers expect to call upon at least 3,600,000 of the nation's 6 million farm homes. Farmers' income figures point to big bond subscriptions. It is estimated that their cash income from marketings will be 19 billion dollars this year.

Hay loaders

Used hay loaders, side delivery rakes, and manure spreaders were recently placed under specific price control by OPA. This ruling applies when these items are sold by any persons, such as farmers or auctioneers. Maximum prices will be determined on the following basis; 85 percent of the price of the machine when new, if the equipment is less than one year old, and 70 percent of the price of the item when new, if the equipment is one year old or more.

Nurses

Funds have been approved to provide complete tuition, fees, stipends, maintenance and uniforms for an anticipated 10,175 student members of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps. Over 500 state accredited schools of nursing have applied to the U. S. Public Health Service for participation in the program. To date, 67 have been approved.

Lumber

A program to increase sharply the production of forest products from farm-owned woodlands as part of the nationwide drive to meet wartime military and essential civilian needs for lumber was announced recently by the War Food Administration. It is estimated that 3½ million farms have woodlands, most of which can yield marketable products. Minimum national requirements for lumber in 1943 total 36 billion board feet. Of this amount, 2½ billion board feet are needed for boxing and crating agricultural products.

Point changes

Reflecting an improvement in civilian meat supplies, the ration cost of most lamb and bacon cuts, sirloin steak, and rib roasts has been reduced from one to two points for September. In addition, several variety meats also have lower point values. Creamery butter increased two points to 12 points per pound. Country butter, however, has been assigned a value of six points per pound. The purchasing power of meats-fats stamps in September will be a little larger than in August because the decrease in meat point values more than cancels the higher ration cost of creamery butter.

Straw

Farmers in the straw-producing areas will be urged to make straw available to strawboard manufacturers to enable them to keep up with very heavy requirements for shipping containers for military forces and essential civilian uses. The War Production Board is cooperating with the War Food Administration in a program designed to increase straw collection in midwestern states. Due to heavy rains and flood conditions this spring, much of the available straw crop was destroyed. State and County War Boards are expected to assist strawboard manufacturers in locating available straw.

Sun heat

Results of a year's study of solar heating and "daylight engineering" by the Illinois Institute of Technology in cooperation with the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company reveal that the world's oldest heating unit—the sun—may successfully be harnessed in post war building to serve as an auxiliary source of winter warmth.

The study of a solar home in the Chicago suburbs, brought out that rays of the sun, filtering through multiple-glazed windows —which sandwich a sealed-in, dehydrated air space between panes to form a type of glass known to engineers as thermoplane — supplied enough heat, even in sub-zero temperatures, to make additional heating unnecessary during daylight hours.

The engineers revealed that one January day, when outside temperatures ranged to 17 degrees below zero, the interior temperatures rose above 85 degrees with the furnace automatically shut off and not in operation between 8:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. A material reduction in fuel bills was reported.

Another war year in high school sports opens this month and what the future holds no one knows. However, the past year has pretty clearly shown that the government and the armed forces want sports continued both as a physical builder of potential soldiers and sailors and as a means of maintaining morale. The citizens of this area have loyally followed the school teams and furnished transportation to maintain a complete schedule of games. School men of the local conferences called off league competition after the football season last year in the face of the problems of gas rationing but the fact that most schools carried on their schedules without too great difficulty proved that their action was short sighted. The principals of the Northwest Conference admit the move was a mistake and have things organized to carry on a complete athletic program this year. The Northeast did not fare as well. A definite defeatist attitude in several schools has prevented the others from having real league competition.

Coaches carry on in Northeast

Fortunately the coaches have gone as far as is possible and most of the schools have arranged football schedules which are pretty much the same as they would have played under league management. In fact the schedules are so complete that the Cook County Herald intends to declare a Northeast Conference champion at the close of the season. Of course there are only three gallons of gas on A books each week, but we have an idea that the boys will get to the games.

One league not functioning

Last month Arch Ward in the "Wake of the News" in the Chicago Tribune stated that not a single athletic conference in Illinois has disbanded. His authority was the secretary of the Illinois High School Association. Unless we have missed a real scoop the Northeast is still the only league in the state not functioning. Some times we wonder if it ever will.

Herrmann back at Wauconda

That the government has changed its attitude toward the coaching profession is shown in the fact that Carl Herrmann will be back as director of sports at Wauconda.

"Jake" Herrmann was drafted at 45 but mustered out of service when the limit was reduced to 38. However, he was told that he had to engage in a necessary occupation and coaching was not in that category. He worked in a war industry last spring, but Mr. McNutt in Washington has changed his mind and Herrmann will be back doing an essential job of training young men at Wauconda. We are glad to see him back but realize at the same time we will have a tougher time with Wauconda in basketball.

Lose athletes by draft

All the schools of this area will feel loss of athletic man power for the first time since the war started due to draft of boys who would have been senior athletes this year. Here at Palatine we lost four lettermen by the draft. Three are lost to the track team and one regular, Don Hooson, is lost to the football team. Hooson had one semester remaining. How many more will be taken at the end of the semester is the big question. At that high schools have no problem at all compared with the colleges, many of whom have had to give up intercollegiate sports due to lack of any boys to play on the teams. Another problem is that of boys working and not coming out for sports. All will be hurt by this.

Friday games are the rule.

Most schools of the Northeast and Northwest conferences are playing their football games on Fridays to avoid Saturday work conflicts. We understand that this is pretty common practice in the Northeast. In the Northwest Barrington, Bensenville, and Palatine will have all home games on Saturday. Antioch, Grant, and Northbrook prefer Friday. Grant's games will again be played under lights. Palatine and Barrington at least feel that about all the gate receipts would be sacrificed if Friday games were played and football is really an expensive sport.

Wish luck to new coaches

Our best wishes to the new football coaches at Arlington and Bensenville. Arlington lost most of their first team players by graduation from a team that won four out of six. Coach Ken Barnhill at Arlington has the enthusiasm and willingness to work hard with the boys which should go a long way toward awakening some declining school spirit in Arlington. We hope Arlington is right up there battling for the lead when late October arrives.

At Bensenville a new coach, Thomas Meneguin, will take over. His prospects for football should be the best in the conference if all the elegible boys return. Kernats and Benham are real good running backs and most of the heavy boys in the line have a year of competition left.

Will pick winners later

We are not ready to pick the best team in each league, but the chances are that Libertyville will be our Northeast choice. At least that was whom we had in mind last spring. We have questionnaires out to all the coaches getting information and do not want to be quoted on this point until all the returns are in. We hope to give our readers a brief review of each school's football prospects before the opening league games.

Arlington loses a fine man

We were indeed sorry to learn that Marion Hogate will not be back at Arlington high this year as assistant coach. Hogate was ace high in our estimation and from what we have both heard and observed he rated tops with students and fellow teachers at Arlington.

Will again phone scores to Chicago papers

We will again phone of the scores of football and basketball games of the Northeast-Northwest area to the Chicago City News Bureau and to the Chicago Sun. We are asking the coaches to phone us collect at Palatine 63-M with results of all their home games. We in turn will relay all the scores to Chicago. Most coaches and fans like to be able to pick up the morning paper on Saturday and Sunday and find out how the other schools fared in their games of the previous afternoon. Cooperation with us from each school in the form of prompt phone calls will insure complete reports.

ANGEL'S WHISPER — is U. S. war slang for bugle calls in the Air Service. Your bugle call is the call to work and the call to buy at least $100.00 extra in War Bonds in the 3rd War Loan.

Niles ranks high in NE league football fight

This is the first of a series of articles dealing with gridiron prospects in schools of the Northeast and Northwest Conferences.

Niles of the Northeast Conference looms as one of the schools likely to hold the limelight in football during the coming season. Head Coach Harold Isaacson has 12 lettermen returning from last season plus 22 minor award winners. In addition Niles will have the services of Shay a 175 pound guard who has transferred from St. George High of Evanston with a background of two years varsity experience.

Niles great freshman team of 1940 is now a senior group. This squad was four seasons ago touted as the conference champs of 1943 so Niles seems to be one of the teams with a good chance of landing on top. Niles has their coaching staff of other years intact with Norm Kent, Bob Mackey, and Jess Dess to assist Isaacson. Mackey will direct the junior varsity and Dees will handle the freshman squad.

Niles has the following varsity lettermen on their squad: B. Clifford, center; E. Dean, end; F. Boufford, guard; R. Denley, guard; F. Tolzian, tackle; R. Piastreili, tackle; J. Ritter, quarterback; L. Kuhn, halfback; J. Harrer, fullback; J. Fredericks, halfback; C. Gockenback, half back; and C. Liebrandt, fullback. Other varsity squad members of 1942 returning are Bailey, Rasmussen, Arnold, Schmidt, Putnam, and Weidenmiller.

Niles meets all the schools of the Northeast Conference except Woodstock. The Trojans open Saturday morning, September 25, against the junior varsity at Evanston and then on Friday, October 1, open the league card at Leyden. On successive Fridays Niles meets Warren at Gurnee, Crystal Lake, Arlington and Lake Forest at Skokie, and close the season at Libertyville, November 5.

Antioch faces tough season

Antioch, undefeated for two seasons in the Northwest Conference, faces tougher going in the grid schedule which opens next week. The champion Sequoits have but five lettermen returning and a squad of only 25 boys out for football. Coach Al Kroll has no assistants as he moves up to replace Wolfinbarger who was commissioned in the navy. Antioch opens at home against McHenry September 17 and plays Warren in another home game on the 24th before the conference opener at Barrington, October 1.

Last year Antioch smothered all conference opposition and placed Dale Barnstable, their great pass catching end, on the all state team. The stars of 1942 are gone. Returning are Joe Nader, 150 center; Herbert Ellis, 155 halfback; Kenneth Krueger, 150 guard; Sam Klass, 145 quarterback; and Louis Neilsen, 200 tackle.

Wills Filed

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The will of the late Dorothea Fiene, who died in Arlington Heights June 10, leaving an estimated $24,000 estate, has been admitted to probate. She left $500 each to the Lutheran Orphans Home and the Old People's Home and $200 to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dettman, all of Arlington Heights.

She ordered the residue of her estate divided into 18 shares and left one share to each of certain relatives or groups of relatives including brothers, sisters and their descendants. They live in Arlington Heights, Palatine, Elgin, Des Plaines and vicinity.

GLENVIEW

Charles F. Moeller, who died in Glenview July 26, left a $4,000 estate as reported in Probate court. His heirs are two daughters, a step-daughter and a granddaughter who are to share equally in the estate. They include Helen Sanders, daughter, and Lorraine Meyer, granddaughter, both living in Glenview.

ROSELLE

The estate of the late Agnes Pinn, who died here Aug. 21 intestate leaving an $8,000 estate, has just been opened in Probate court. Her heirs are four sons and two daughters, including Theresa Piske of Roselle.

CONSIDER 125 WAR HOMES AT CUMBERLAND

Consideration of 125 new brick war homes for Cumberland Terrace was brought up last week at a meeting of the C. T. Improvement club. A home concern offered the 125 immediate homes with full government priorities, providing sewer, paved streets, curbs and sidewalks were in. Cost of the improvements is estimated to be between $4 and $5 per front foot. No definite decision was reached.

SALVAGE SEAPLANE FROM FOX LAKE

A seaplane from Glenview turned over in Fox Lake recently, though its crew of four were rescued by a local fisherman. The plane was later righted in the middle of the lake and beached, an eight hour job. A naval crew from Glenview accomplished the ticklish salvage job.

TRAY OF DIAMONDS DISAPPEARS FROM STORE

A tray of diamonds, value between 4 and 5 thousand dollars was found missing from a jewelry store in Libertyville. The manager had placed them in the window on Saturday morning but they were discovered missing Sunday. None of the employees remembered putting the tray in the safe Saturday night upon closing, the usual practice.

Palatine opens football vs Crystal Lake next week

Red Wings in final home game this Sunday

Arlington Red Wings took the short end of both baseball games last week-end losing to the Glenview Air Base nine, 4-0, Sunday, and on Labor Day the Cragins beat them, 5-2.

Both games were well played, but the local team lacked the power they displayed in the last three games they won. Ray Willert was the hitting star of both games.

Next Sunday the Red Wings will close their 1943 baseball season with a game against the Emergency Radios. This team is composed of players from various defense plants and from all information, have a swell ball club.

Still openings for cadet nurses

Registrations for the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps are coming in fast. Already twenty-one of the 97 approved nursing schools in the state have filled their fall classes. But there are still openings in the majority of nursing schools for those who wish to enroll this fall.

Cadet Nurses receive their nursing education free at government expense. They also are provided with a smart new outdoor uniform, in both summer and winter models, designed by fashion experts. This uniform bears the insignia of the U. S. Public Health Service. In return for their three years training and other benefits, the Cadet Nurse agrees to stay in essential nursing service for the duration of the war. Thus while performing an important war service, the Cadet Nurse prepares herself for a lifetime career.

Young women interested in joining the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps may obtain an up-to-date list of nursing schools in Illinois where vacancies still exist for fall classes, by calling in person at the Illinois State Nurses' Association, 8 South Michigan ave., Room 1014, Chicago, or by writing for this list.

Potato crop swamps Chicago

This year's crop of new potatoes has created a problem in distribution. With Chicago markets flooded with potatoes, there is a danger of a large number spoiling unless they move into consumer channels quickly.

For this reason, the Chicago Nutrition committee is urging housewives to increase their purchase of potatoes during this month to allow Victory Garden crops to mature more fully before digging, and to serve potatoes often in new and different ways.

An example of the large amount of potatoes now on the market is reflected in statistics from the United States Department of Agriculture to the effect that 25 percent more white potatoes are available now than at the same time last year.

Prospects for sweet potatoes according to the same source are about 27 per cent better than last year. This new crop is expected in the local markets early in September and, like the white potatoes, the early ones will be perishable. Everyone, therefore, is urged to use more sweet potatoes to avoid wasting this crop.

GLENVIEW DAYS GROSS $12,647

The annual Glenview Days celebration grossed $12,647.38, it was revealed last week. Winners of the four war bonds were three Chicagoans, and Bert Clavey of Glenview. The grand prize residential lot went to R. W. Egan of Chicago.

TWO DES PLAINES MEN MISSING IN ACTION

Two Des Plaines servicemen, Bill Fischer and Reinhold Schmall, were both reported missing in action. Fischer is missing in the Pacific area while Schmall is missing in the Africa theatre of war.

Graduation, jobs and draft take most of veterans

Palatine opens the football season at Crystal Lake on Friday night, September 17 with but three returning lettermen from the fine team of 1942. Coach Earl Stutzman developed a wonder team last year in Palatine's return to the gridiron after a lapse of seven years. The Pirates won four of six contests and took undisputed second place in the conference.

A lot of Palatine's heavy varsity lineup last year were seniors and many others were lost through the draft and the lure of good paying jobs. Just two regulars, Bob Douglas and Tom Moody, form the nucleus for Stutzman's second Pirate football team. Both lads are backfield men and juniors. Douglas was Palatine's passer and best ground gainer in 1942. Every regular lineman is gone. Clarence Herr, a substitute end, is the only letterman returning to the forward wall. Captain Harvey Oltendorf developed rapidly last year and is expected to be Palatine's best lineman. He was a minor letter winner as was William Schwank, a tackle. Jack Goodwin and Ray McMullin, other minor letter winners, were backfield men.

Charles Bock, 265 pound regular guard of last year, is not out for football due to an after school job. Roy Lohse, center, and Robert Machnik, halfback, dropped out of school to work. Donald Hooson, regular half back with but one semester left until graduation, was drafted. Tom Connelly, regular back, quit school last winter to work. All this in addition to the loss of one of the best athletic classes in the history of Palatine high school leaves Coach Stutzman very short handed for the coming season.

The big problem will be to build a line. Palatine's backfield will likely be picked from among Douglas, Moody, Goodwin, Smith, J. Anderson, and Meyers. Stutzman has two big junior linemen in John Rose 210 and Roy Hanson, 185, but both are out for football for the first time. Kolze, a senior, is getting a trial at center. Tom Ullock, a transfer from Schurz of Chicago, has no experience but show promises as an end or tackle. Stan Arendt, a husky sophomore, may get a guard position. John Anderson, a junior, will probably be used at end or tackle if not in the backfield. He is the fastest boy on the squad and weighs 170. Melvin Vogt, is a lightweight senior, but has plenty of scrap and looks like an end possibility.

The Pirates have been practicing daily since August 25 and most of the boys who have been out regularly are rounding into good shape physically. A possible scrimmage with Arlington at the end of this week should give Stutzman a better line on the ability of his boys, but he is none too optimistic. However, other schools of the Northwest Conference may have the same problems concerning material that beset Palatine.

Crystal Lake, Palatine's first opponent, was cellar occupant of the Northeast loop last year with six straight defeats, but the Lakers are usually one of the better outfits in their league. The Pirates play Leyden's junior varsity at Franklin Park September 25 and then open the home and conference season with Grant the opponent on Saturday, October 2.

The complete list of boys who have been out for football prior to the opening of school this week Tuesday is as follows: Seniors—Capt. Oltendorf, Herr, Goodwin, M. Vogt, Kolze, Meyers, Hooson and McMullin; Juniors—Rose, Hanson, Douglas, Moody, Schwank, Jost, J. Anderson, Winn, Scheer, and Dipper; Sophomores—Ullock, B. Smith, Gates, Arendt, Hestrup, Dreyer, Pittenger; Freshmen—LeBaron, Wilson, Werner, Toppel, Johnson, Neagle, Sander, Birks, and Koss.

Some times we wonder if it ever will.

Herrmann back at Wauconda

That the government has changed its attitude toward the coaching profession is shown in the fact that Carl Herrmann will be back as director of sports at Wauconda. "Jake" Herrmann was drafted at 45 but mustered out of service when the limit was reduced to 38. However, he was told that he had to engage in a necessary occupation and coaching was not in that category. He worked in a war industry last spring, but Mr. McNutt in Washington has changed his mind and Herrmann will be back doing an essential job of training young men at Wauconda. We are glad to see him back but realize at the same time we will have a tougher time with Wauconda in basketball.

Lose athletes by draft

All the schools of this area will feel loss of athletic man power for the first time since the war started due to draft of boys who would have been senior athletes this year. Here at Palatine we lost four lettermen by the draft. Three are lost to the track team and one regular, Don Hooson, is lost to the football team. Hooson had one semester remaining. How many more will be taken at the end of the semester is the big question. At that high schools have no problem at all compared with the colleges, many of whom have had to give up intercollegiate sports due to lack of any boys to play on the teams. Another problem is that of boys working and not coming out for sports. All will be hurt by this.

Friday games are the rule.

Most schools of the Northeast and Northwest conferences are playing their football games on Fridays to avoid Saturday work conflicts. We understand that this is pretty common practice in the Northeast. In the Northwest Barrington, Bensenville, and Palatine will have all home games on Saturday. Antioch, Grant, and Northbrook prefer Friday. Grant's games will again be played under lights. Palatine and Barrington at least feel that about all the gate receipts would be sacrificed if Friday games were played and football is really an expensive sport.

Wish luck to new coaches

Our best wishes to the new football coaches at Arlington and Bensenville. Arlington lost most of their first team players by graduation from a team that won four out of six. Coach Ken Barnhill at Arlington has the enthusiasm and willingness to work hard with the boys which should go a long way toward awakening some declining school spirit in Arlington. We hope Arlington is right up there battling for the lead when late October arrives.

At Bensenville a new coach, Thomas Meneguin, will take over. His prospects for football should be the best in the conference if all the elegible boys return. Kernats and Benham are real good running backs and most of the heavy boys in the line have a year of competition left.

Will pick winners later

We are not ready to pick the best team in each league, but the chances are that Libertyville will be our Northeast choice. At least that was whom we had in mind last spring. We have questionnaires out to all the coaches getting information and do not want to be quoted on this point until all the returns are in. We hope to give our readers a brief review of each school's football prospects before the opening league games.

Arlington loses a fine man

We were indeed sorry to learn that Marion Hogate will not be back at Arlington high this year as assistant coach. Hogate was ace high in our estimation and from what we have both heard and observed he rated tops with students and fellow teachers at Arlington.

Will again phone scores to Chicago papers

We will again phone of the scores of football and basketball games of the Northeast-Northwest area to the Chicago City News Bureau and to the Chicago Sun. We are asking the coaches to phone us collect at Palatine 63-M with results of all their home games. We in turn will relay all the scores to Chicago. Most coaches and fans like to be able to pick up the morning paper on Saturday and Sunday and find out how the other schools fared in their games of the previous afternoon. Cooperation with us from each school in the form of prompt phone calls will insure complete reports.

ANGEL'S WHISPER — is U. S. war slang for bugle calls in the Air Service. Your bugle call is the call to work and the call to buy at least $100.00 extra in War Bonds in the 3rd War Loan.

Niles ranks high in NE league football fight

This is the first of a series of articles dealing with gridiron prospects in schools of the Northeast and Northwest Conferences.

Niles of the Northeast Conference looms as one of the schools likely to hold the limelight in football during the coming season. Head Coach Harold Isaacson has 12 lettermen returning from last season plus 22 minor award winners. In addition Niles will have the services of Shay a 175 pound guard who has transferred from St. George High of Evanston with a background of two years varsity experience.

Niles great freshman team of 1940 is now a senior group. This squad was four seasons ago touted as the conference champs of 1943 so Niles seems to be one of the teams with a good chance of landing on top. Niles has their coaching staff of other years intact with Norm Kent, Bob Mackey, and Jess Dess to assist Isaacson. Mackey will direct the junior varsity and Dees will handle the freshman squad.

Niles has the following varsity lettermen on their squad: B. Clifford, center; E. Dean, end; F. Boufford, guard; R. Denley, guard; F. Tolzian, tackle; R. Piastreili, tackle; J. Ritter, quarterback; L. Kuhn, halfback; J. Harrer, fullback; J. Fredericks, halfback; C. Gockenback, half back; and C. Liebrandt, fullback. Other varsity squad members of 1942 returning are Bailey, Rasmussen, Arnold, Schmidt, Putnam, and Weidenmiller.

Niles meets all the schools of the Northeast Conference except Woodstock. The Trojans open Saturday morning, September 25, against the junior varsity at Evanston and then on Friday, October 1, open the league card at Leyden. On successive Fridays Niles meets Warren at Gurnee, Crystal Lake, Arlington and Lake Forest at Skokie, and close the season at Libertyville, November 5.

Antioch faces tough season

Antioch, undefeated for two seasons in the Northwest Conference, faces tougher going in the grid schedule which opens next week. The champion Sequoits have but five lettermen returning and a squad of only 25 boys out for football. Coach Al Kroll has no assistants as he moves up to replace Wolfinbarger who was commissioned in the navy. Antioch opens at home against McHenry September 17 and plays Warren in another home game on the 24th before the conference opener at Barrington, October 1.

Last year Antioch smothered all conference opposition and placed Dale Barnstable, their great pass catching end, on the all state team. The stars of 1942 are gone. Returning are Joe Nader, 150 center; Herbert Ellis, 155 halfback; Kenneth Krueger, 150 guard; Sam Klass, 145 quarterback; and Louis Neilsen, 200 tackle.

Wills Filed

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The will of the late Dorothea Fiene, who died in Arlington Heights June 10, leaving an estimated $24,000 estate, has been admitted to probate. She left $500 each to the Lutheran Orphans Home and the Old People's Home and $200 to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dettman, all of Arlington Heights.

She ordered the residue of her estate divided into 18 shares and left one share to each of certain relatives or groups of relatives including brothers, sisters and their descendants. They live in Arlington Heights, Palatine, Elgin, Des Plaines and vicinity.

GLENVIEW

Charles F. Moeller, who died in Glenview July 26, left a $4,000 estate as reported in Probate court. His heirs are two daughters, a step-daughter and a granddaughter who are to share equally in the estate. They include Helen Sanders, daughter, and Lorraine Meyer, granddaughter, both living in Glenview.

ROSELLE

The estate of the late Agnes Pinn, who died here Aug. 21 intestate leaving an $8,000 estate, has just been opened in Probate court. Her heirs are four sons and two daughters, including Theresa Piske of Roselle.

CONSIDER 125 WAR HOMES AT CUMBERLAND

Consideration of 125 new brick war homes for Cumberland Terrace was brought up last week at a meeting of the C. T. Improvement club. A home concern offered the 125 immediate homes with full government priorities, providing sewer, paved streets, curbs and sidewalks were in. Cost of the improvements is estimated to be between $4 and $5 per front foot. No definite decision was reached.

SALVAGE SEAPLANE FROM FOX LAKE

A seaplane from Glenview turned over in Fox Lake recently, though its crew of four were rescued by a local fisherman. The plane was later righted in the middle of the lake and beached, an eight hour job. A naval crew from Glenview accomplished the ticklish salvage job.

TRAY OF DIAMONDS DISAPPEARS FROM STORE

A tray of diamonds, value between 4 and 5 thousand dollars was found missing from a jewelry store in Libertyville. The manager had placed them in the window on Saturday morning but they were discovered missing Sunday. None of the employees remembered putting the tray in the safe Saturday night upon closing, the usual practice.

Red Wings in final home game this Sunday

Arlington Red Wings took the short end of both baseball games last week-end losing to the Glenview Air Base nine, 4-0, Sunday, and on Labor Day the Cragins beat them, 5-2.

Both games were well played, but the local team lacked the power they displayed in the last three games they won. Ray Willert was the hitting star of both games.

Next Sunday the Red Wings will close their 1943 baseball season with a game against the Emergency Radios. This team is composed of players from various defense plants and from all information, have a swell ball club.

Still openings for cadet nurses

Registrations for the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps are coming in fast. Already twenty-one of the 97 approved nursing schools in the state have filled their fall classes. But there are still openings in the majority of nursing schools for those who wish to enroll this fall.

Cadet Nurses receive their nursing education free at government expense. They also are provided with a smart new outdoor uniform, in both summer and winter models, designed by fashion experts. This uniform bears the insignia of the U. S. Public Health Service. In return for their three years training and other benefits, the Cadet Nurse agrees to stay in essential nursing service for the duration of the war. Thus while performing an important war service, the Cadet Nurse prepares herself for a lifetime career.

Young women interested in joining the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps may obtain an up-to-date list of nursing schools in Illinois where vacancies still exist for fall classes, by calling in person at the Illinois State Nurses' Association, 8 South Michigan ave., Room 1014, Chicago, or by writing for this list.

Potato crop swamps Chicago

This year's crop of new potatoes has created a problem in distribution. With Chicago markets flooded with potatoes, there is a danger of a large number spoiling unless they move into consumer channels quickly.

For this reason, the Chicago Nutrition committee is urging housewives to increase their purchase of potatoes during this month to allow Victory Garden crops to mature more fully before digging, and to serve potatoes often in new and different ways.

An example of the large amount of potatoes now on the market is reflected in statistics from the United States Department of Agriculture to the effect that 25 percent more white potatoes are available now than at the same time last year.

Prospects for sweet potatoes according to the same source are about 27 per cent better than last year. This new crop is expected in the local markets early in September and, like the white potatoes, the early ones will be perishable. Everyone, therefore, is urged to use more sweet potatoes to avoid wasting this crop.

GLENVIEW DAYS GROSS $12,647

The annual Glenview Days celebration grossed $12,647.38, it was revealed last week. Winners of the four war bonds were three Chicagoans, and Bert Clavey of Glenview. The grand prize residential lot went to R. W. Egan of Chicago.

TWO DES PLAINES MEN MISSING IN ACTION

Two Des Plaines servicemen, Bill Fischer and Reinhold Schmall, were both reported missing in action. Fischer is missing in the Pacific area while Schmall is missing in the Africa theatre of war.

Graduation, jobs and draft take most of veterans

Palatine opens the football season at Crystal Lake on Friday night, September 17 with but three returning lettermen from the fine team of 1942. Coach Earl Stutzman developed a wonder team last year in Palatine's return to the gridiron after a lapse of seven years. The Pirates won four of six contests and took undisputed second place in the conference.

A lot of Palatine's heavy varsity lineup last year were seniors and many others were lost through the draft and the lure of good paying jobs. Just two regulars, Bob Douglas and Tom Moody, form the nucleus for Stutzman's second Pirate football team. Both lads are backfield men and juniors. Douglas was Palatine's passer and best ground gainer in 1942. Every regular lineman is gone. Clarence Herr, a substitute end, is the only letterman returning to the forward wall. Captain Harvey Oltendorf developed rapidly last year and is expected to be Palatine's best lineman. He was a minor letter winner as was William Schwank, a tackle. Jack Goodwin and Ray McMullin, other minor letter winners, were backfield men.

Charles Bock, 265 pound regular guard of last year, is not out for football due to an after school job. Roy Lohse, center, and Robert Machnik, halfback, dropped out of school to work. Donald Hooson, regular half back with but one semester left until graduation, was drafted. Tom Connelly, regular back, quit school last winter to work. All this in addition to the loss of one of the best athletic classes in the history of Palatine high school leaves Coach Stutzman very short handed for the coming season.

The big problem will be to build a line. Palatine's backfield will likely be picked from among Douglas, Moody, Goodwin, Smith, J. Anderson, and Meyers. Stutzman has two big junior linemen in John Rose 210 and Roy Hanson, 185, but both are out for football for the first time. Kolze, a senior, is getting a trial at center. Tom Ullock, a transfer from Schurz of Chicago, has no experience but show promises as an end or tackle. Stan Arendt, a husky sophomore, may get a guard position. John Anderson, a junior, will probably be used at end or tackle if not in the backfield. He is the fastest boy on the squad and weighs 170. Melvin Vogt, is a lightweight senior, but has plenty of scrap and looks like an end possibility.

The Pirates have been practicing daily since August 25 and most of the boys who have been out regularly are rounding into good shape physically. A possible scrimmage with Arlington at the end of this week should give Stutzman a better line on the ability of his boys, but he is none too optimistic. However, other schools of the Northwest Conference may have the same problems concerning material that beset Palatine.

Crystal Lake, Palatine's first opponent, was cellar occupant of the Northeast loop last year with six straight defeats, but the Lakers are usually one of the better outfits in their league. The Pirates play Leyden's junior varsity at Franklin Park September 25 and then open the home and conference season with Grant the opponent on Saturday, October 2.

The complete list of boys who have been out for football prior to the opening of school this week Tuesday is as follows: Seniors—Capt. Oltendorf, Herr, Goodwin, M. Vogt, Kolze, Meyers, Hooson and McMullin; Juniors—Rose, Hanson, Douglas, Moody, Schwank, Jost, J. Anderson, Winn, Scheer, and Dipper; Sophomores—Ullock, B. Smith, Gates, Arendt, Hestrup, Dreyer, Pittenger; Freshmen—LeBaron, Wilson, Werner, Toppel, Johnson, Neagle, Sander, Birks, and Koss.

Wisconsin

John Senne of Palatine writes this week from Marquette University, Wisconsin, where he is training as an aviation cadet.

"I believe it's time I expressed my appreciation to those responsible for my receiving the Palatine Enterprise since I've been in the service. I've been more lucky than some, being stationed close to home, but it's always good to hear what's going on in the home town. I especially enjoy the pages devoted to those in the service.

"Milwaukee sure is 'all out' with hospitality for servicemen and women. The USO provides numerous types of entertainment and recreation — all worth while. We don't work too hard here, but it still seems good to be able to really have a good time on liberty.

"I'd like to hear from my friends, especially those who are in the service, and I wish to thank those who have already written. Letters mean a lot to us."

John's address is:
A-C John W. Senne, USNR
CAA - WTS
Marquette University,
Milwaukee, Wis.

Writing from Madison, Wisconsin, this week is Pfc. Earl Weisgerber of Arlington Heights.

"Received that fine gift just now (traveling bank) and had to write immediately to tell you how much I appreciated it. It's those kind of things that make us fellows in the service appreciate the folks at home.

"Though I am just three hours from Chi I still haven't been able to get home. Perhaps I can make it next week. Just returned from a short school session at Philadelphia. I'm getting tired of going to school all of the time. I want to get into action pretty soon. However, I guess Uncle Sam knows what he is doing."

Earl is attending radio school in Madison. His address is ASN 36343545, 29th TSS Bks 2658, Truax Field, Madison, Wis.

Missouri

Pvt. Robt. F. Bittner, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bittner, 215 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights, is a newly-arrived soldier at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., Colonel Parker G. Tenney, commanding. This historic military post, on the Mississippi River a few miles south of St. Louis, is a replacement training center for the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command.

Here recruits are given vocational aptitude tests to qualify them for important duties in various Arms and Branches of the Services attached with the Army Air Forces. Dependent upon their education, civilian experience and results of the various tests given, recruits will be selected either for technical schools or specialized occupations within the Army. Following a period of instruction in basic military training and discipline the recruits will be sent to active service with the Army Air Forces.

He was employed as a gas station attendant by Virgil K. Horath. He attended the Arlington Heights township high school.

At sea

We are in receipt of a letter from Wm. H. Gleason of Palatine, coxwain in the navy:

"This is just a line to say 'thanks' for the write-up and the consideration that you gave me while I was home on leave. This letter is a little late, but due to circumstances, it just couldn't be helped. There wasn't much that I could say while I was home about where I'd been, etc.—censored—then it was too late to do any good. But I promise that if I ever get another leave I will have a story that will really do things up brown.

"I also wish that you'd do me a favor and say 'thanks' to the Legion and the Auxiliary for sending me the paper. I get it regularly with the mail each time it comes aboard."

His address is W. H. Gleason, Cox., 5th Div, c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif.

Colorado

Pvt. Warren Sessous of Wheeling was granted an emergency furlough to allow him to come home to attend the funeral of his grandfather, William Sessous, Sr. Private Sessous arrived from Camp Carson, Colorado early on Monday, the day of the funeral, and will return next Monday.

Rhode Island

From the Newport, Rhode Island, naval training station this week comes word from John Warder of Palatine.

"To the many friends who remembered me on my recent birthday, I send a sincere thank you. I hope that you will accept this means of answering, because it would be impossible for me to answer you all personally.

"The Navy gives us very little free time while we are in school. The free time we do have is spent washing clothes or cramming for the week's exam. I am attending the Navy's Quartermaster school.

"Our work, when we are sent to sea, will consist of signaling, keeping the ship's log, acting as Junior Officer of the Deck, assisting the navigator in charting, and various other jobs around the ship's bridge. Most likely, when we are sent to a ship we will be given just one of these jobs.

"It has been intimated that we will be sent to smaller vessels, such as landing barges, PT boats and submarines.

"The Palatine Enterprise is sent to me by my folks, but to those who are responsible for sending it to the other boys in the service, I can really appreciate the warm reception it gets from them. It's a real morale builder."

His address is John C. Warder S 2/C Co. 1575, QMSS USNTS, Newport, R. I.

New York

Pvt. Merton Taylor, son of E. A. Taylor, Arlington Heights, enlisted in the Cavalry and was inducted at Wrigley Field in Chicago on Nov. 7, 1942, between the halves of the St. John-Culver football game. He left immediately for Camp Grant, was transferred to Ft. Meade, So. Dakota where he received his basic training, assigned to Troop B of the 4th Cavalry.

He was transferred in January to Camp Young, Calif., for maneuvers in the Desert Training Center. In June he was sent to Ohio State U. of Columbus for examination under the Army Specialist Training program.

On July 11 he was sent to New York U. in New York City for 92 weeks of engineering instruction.

Lt. Donald Welflin of Wheeling enjoyed an evening of bowling with Lt. Dan Bittner of Arlington Heights last week. The boys were members of the same graduating class of Arlington Heights high school and just recently learned they were at the same field.

Lt. Bittner is with the 1st Air Force and Lt. Welflin with the 1st Fighter Command. Don also tells of shaking hands with Joe Louis last week, after watching him put on a sparring match at Mitchell Field, New York.

Chicago

Melvin E. Harting, 209 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights, won recognition as a "qualified striker" on the occasion of his recent graduation from the Naval Training School (Radio) located on the campus of the University of Chicago, Chicago.

The Bluejacket's selection to the specialty school was determined from the results of his "boot training" aptitude test scores. His completed course of study included sending and receiving code, enciphering and deciphering messages and the fundamentals of radio and electrical equipment.

Further experience may win for him an advanced petty officer rating. At present the Bluejacket is waiting assignment to a naval shore station or to one of the Navy's fighting ships on the seas.

Idaho

A brief note from Farragut, Idaho, this week by John Rhodes of Arlington Heights states "landed just where I thought I would. Have taken al of my 'shots' and feel o.k. I like it swell here."

His address is John Rhodes A/S Co 552-43, Camp Waldron, Farragut, Idaho.

Washington

Loil Mirs of Arlington Heights writes this week from the Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Washington.

"I am still receiving the home town paper and appreciate it very much. The paper comes right on time, as far as it goes. I know just what day to go look for it.

"The 'With Uncle Sam' column is tops. I can find out just where most of my buddies are. I see Bob Harth is still at Fort Lewis, and if I get enough time and am here long enough I will take a run down to see him. He may even get enough time to come down here.

"There isn't much to do down here except sit in the barracks and wait for our ship to come in, then myself and the boys from Whidbay Island will be sent out, where to nobody knows.

"I've been in over a year and I've seen quite a bit of the finer parts of Washington. I've spent many liberty week-ends in Canada, and found out it is a beautiful place to spend a summer vacation. For miles around you can see the beautiful white capped mountains, young water falls, and some very beautiful trout streams.

"The Canadian people treat the American boys pretty swell, they donate boats, and fishing equipment for our entertainment. Most of the people give us a place to stay while we're out their way. Fishing is O. K. out there.

"The beer out here is just like water. When I want beer I like that beer from good old A. H. Every time I drink a beer cap here I wish I was back in A. H. drinking a bottle of Fox De Luxe or some of Pete Varnak's 'Hamms.'

"Keep sending the paper. I enjoy reading of the trouble the people in Heights are having."

No. Carolina

Walter Kersten of Arlington Heights writes this week from Camp Davis, North Carolina.

"Everything around here is quite dead. Would much rather be back overseas and into action. Boy, just to feel the buck of a machine gun and see those Nazi planes fall! Once you get used to it, the ordinary life is too quiet for you.

"You folks at home keep on buying war bonds. We all appreciate it and the more you buy the sooner this war will be over."

Walt's address is ASN 36311683, Btry C, 117th AAA (GUN) MBL, Camp Davis, North Carolina.

Massachusetts

Pvt. Lyle Walter of Palatine has been transferred to Amherst College, Mass., for "Specialized Army Training." He has been selected as one of 370 of the entire armed forces to take this program here. After six months of study, exams will be given for entrance to West Point. About one-third of this group will be eligible for training at West Point.

His address now is Pvt. Lyle E. Walter, ASTU SCSU 1193 (USMAP). Amherst College, Amherst, Massachusetts.

California

Writing this week from Camp Roberts, California, is Pvt. Max Nisle of Arlington Heights.

"Enclosed is my new address. Please change it on the Herald. I'm always glad to get the paper and keep in touch with the folks at home.

"Right now I am writing under candlelight, as there is no electricity in this tent city. We are surrounded by mountains. It is quite dry and hot during the day but cool in the evening.

"Much of our work includes digging trenches and fox-holes as a toughening exercise. I get plenty of fresh air and have a good California sun tan.

"I wish to greet all of my old friends at Creamery Package company in Arlington. One nice thing about this country, I haven't seen any mosquitoes yet."

His address is Pvt. Max Nisle, Co C 66th Rep Bn, Camp Roberts, California.

E. M. Howard Graff 2/C of Wheeling called his home from California last week. His telephone conversation revealed that he was convalescing from an injury received several weeks ago.

"Bud" is now in Co. A. of the 89 N.C.B., at Camp Parks, Calif.

Pacific

The Enterprise has received the corrected address of Pfc. Robert Coakley of the U. S. Marine Corps, who writes that he has just come out of the hospital and is convalescing and enjoying the fishing and swimming on some island in the Pacific. He has been collecting stones, commonly referred to as "cats eyes" and was hopeful of having some native jewelry to send home soon.

The new address is Pfc. Robert Coakley, USMC, c/o Fleet PO, San Francisco, Calif.

Utah

Lieutenant John Schneider of Itasca has arrived at Wendover field, Utah. John is the brother of Alice Schneider of Itasca.

Lt. Schneider's army career includes three months at Santa Ana, Calif., nine weeks at Morton academy, Blythe, Cal., nine weeks at Lemoore field Cal., and nine weeks at Luke field, Ariz.

Wendover field is a base of the Second Air Force and trains men for heavy bombardment. It is situated on the edge of the great salt flats of Utah and has gained fame as one of the leading centers in the United States for training crews to fly four-motored bombers.

Wyoming

Home this week from Cheyenne, Wyoming, is Pvt. Marvin Harris of Palatine. Marvin formerly lived in Arlington Heights. He is scheduled to return to duty this Saturday.

BASEBALL

Arlington Heights defeated a team from the Great Lakes Training Station 10-5, Monday, at the Southside grounds in a game which lasted about 2½ hours.

FIRST QUOTA FROM DIST. 1

The following (five percent) of the drafted men from District 1 have been ordered to report for service to the office of the Local Exemption Board at Des Plaines at 7 o'clock a. m. September 7: Barrington, Beno, John; Gehrendt, Rud.; Boobyer, Fred; Homuth, Herb.; Miller, Gottlieb; Sommerfield, Wm. Arlington Heights, Fat, Edward; Hefferen, Wm.; Sieburg, Walter; Kuecker, Wm. Des Plaines, Lambert Q. Seng; Morris P. Jones; Pinney, Edw. M. Palatine, Blum, Ben.

Aurora — September 7, 1917 — Soldiers took Jacob Hendricks into custody for cursing at them and the country. Hendricks is the former constable who has been selling the Chicago Republican, which assailed the Wilson administration.

Joliet — September 7, 1917 — Two bottles of nitroglycerin connected by a fuse were discovered here by workmen in the main boiler room of the New Process Refining plant. It is believed by the superintendent, O. W. Fitts, that the recent agitation for the conservation of gasoline may be responsible for the placing of the explosive, on the part of persons hostile to America's war attitude.

USE MORE APPLES; HELP DEFEAT KAISER

Word has gone forth that America must use all of her great apple crop this year in order to save wheat and meat for the support of our allies in war against Germany.

A Letter From Bud

Our letter from Bud came this mornin'
And his news about stunned Ma and me,
For he said that he soon would be leavin'
For some far, unknown port 'cross the Sea.

Buddy writes—I don't want you to worry
For our Transports all pass safely thru
And great Convoys protect all our Soldiers
Who sail under the Red, White and Blue.

And I think that our Father in Heaven
Watches over our glorious Flag,
For he's helped keep that Flag proudly flyin'
O'er the Valley and High Mountain Crag.

He has given us brave-hearted Generals
Who have kept our Flag floatin' on high,
Right from Washington thru to MacArthur
Our Great Generals have never said "Die."

With a handful of men as his Soldiers
General Washington fought on this shore,
Bringin' freedom to God-loving People
Then the Stars and Stripes waved from our Door.

And this proud shining emblem of Glory
Reaching out like a beckoning hand,
Ever welcomes, as friends, weary aliens
Who seek justice and peace in our Land.

In the last war our great Gen'ral Pershing
Lead our forces thru dark, war-torn lands
And our Khaki-clad boys turned the Battle
Placing vict-ry in our Allies Hands.

As the hour glass dripped sand thru the eras
Once again trouble came to our shore
And from helpless Friends over the Ocean
Came the Plea that we help them once more.

And our President down in the White House
Heard that call from the Valley of Tears,
So he placed our Boys back in their Khaki
And the time clock turns back many years.

Once again thru those desolate Countries
March these Boys where their Father once trod,
As they pass by—the war weary Natives
Give a cheer and then Murmur, "Thank God."

For they know that our General MacArthur
Will come thru like a Battering Ram
And the same cowards that conquer small Nations
Must again bow to our Uncle Sam.

And long after that hated Swastika
Trails the dust like an old tattered rag,
O'er the Valley and high on the Mountain
Will still wave our American Flag.

Wisconsin

John Senne of Palatine writes this week from Marquette University, Wisconsin, where he is training as an aviation cadet.

"I believe it's time I expressed my appreciation to those responsible for my receiving the Palatine Enterprise since I've been in the service. I've been more lucky than some, being stationed close to home, but it's always good to hear what's going on in the home town. I especially enjoy the pages devoted to those in the service.

"Milwaukee sure is 'all out' with hospitality for servicemen and women. The USO provides numerous types of entertainment and recreation — all worth while. We don't work too hard here, but it still seems good to be able to really have a good time on liberty.

"I'd like to hear from my friends, especially those who are in the service, and I wish to thank those who have already written. Letters mean a lot to us."

John's address is:
A-C John W. Senne, USNR
CAA - WTS
Marquette University,
Milwaukee, Wis.

Writing from Madison, Wisconsin, this week is Pfc. Earl Weisgerber of Arlington Heights.

"Received that fine gift just now (traveling bank) and had to write immediately to tell you how much I appreciated it. It's those kind of things that make us fellows in the service appreciate the folks at home.

"Though I am just three hours from Chi I still haven't been able to get home. Perhaps I can make it next week. Just returned from a short school session at Philadelphia. I'm getting tired of going to school all of the time. I want to get into action pretty soon. However, I guess Uncle Sam knows what he is doing."

Earl is attending radio school in Madison. His address is ASN 36343545, 29th TSS Bks 2658, Truax Field, Madison, Wis.

Missouri

Pvt. Robt. F. Bittner, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bittner, 215 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights, is a newly-arrived soldier at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., Colonel Parker G. Tenney, commanding. This historic military post, on the Mississippi River a few miles south of St. Louis, is a replacement training center for the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command.

Here recruits are given vocational aptitude tests to qualify them for important duties in various Arms and Branches of the Services attached with the Army Air Forces. Dependent upon their education, civilian experience and results of the various tests given, recruits will be selected either for technical schools or specialized occupations within the Army. Following a period of instruction in basic military training and discipline the recruits will be sent to active service with the Army Air Forces.

He was employed as a gas station attendant by Virgil K. Horath. He attended the Arlington Heights township high school.

At sea

We are in receipt of a letter from Wm. H. Gleason of Palatine, coxwain in the navy:

"This is just a line to say 'thanks' for the write-up and the consideration that you gave me while I was home on leave. This letter is a little late, but due to circumstances, it just couldn't be helped. There wasn't much that I could say while I was home about where I'd been, etc.—censored—then it was too late to do any good. But I promise that if I ever get another leave I will have a story that will really do things up brown.

"I also wish that you'd do me a favor and say 'thanks' to the Legion and the Auxiliary for sending me the paper. I get it regularly with the mail each time it comes aboard."

His address is W. H. Gleason, Cox., 5th Div, c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif.

Colorado

Pvt. Warren Sessous of Wheeling was granted an emergency furlough to allow him to come home to attend the funeral of his grandfather, William Sessous, Sr. Private Sessous arrived from Camp Carson, Colorado early on Monday, the day of the funeral, and will return next Monday.

Rhode Island

From the Newport, Rhode Island, naval training station this week comes word from John Warder of Palatine.

"To the many friends who remembered me on my recent birthday, I send a sincere thank you. I hope that you will accept this means of answering, because it would be impossible for me to answer you all personally.

"The Navy gives us very little free time while we are in school. The free time we do have is spent washing clothes or cramming for the week's exam. I am attending the Navy's Quartermaster school.

"Our work, when we are sent to sea, will consist of signaling, keeping the ship's log, acting as Junior Officer of the Deck, assisting the navigator in charting, and various other jobs around the ship's bridge. Most likely, when we are sent to a ship we will be given just one of these jobs.

"It has been intimated that we will be sent to smaller vessels, such as landing barges, PT boats and submarines.

"The Palatine Enterprise is sent to me by my folks, but to those who are responsible for sending it to the other boys in the service, I can really appreciate the warm reception it gets from them. It's a real morale builder."

His address is John C. Warder S 2/C Co. 1575, QMSS USNTS, Newport, R. I.

New York

Pvt. Merton Taylor, son of E. A. Taylor, Arlington Heights, enlisted in the Cavalry and was inducted at Wrigley Field in Chicago on Nov. 7, 1942, between the halves of the St. John-Culver football game. He left immediately for Camp Grant, was transferred to Ft. Meade, So. Dakota where he received his basic training, assigned to Troop B of the 4th Cavalry.

He was transferred in January to Camp Young, Calif., for maneuvers in the Desert Training Center. In June he was sent to Ohio State U. of Columbus for examination under the Army Specialist Training program.

On July 11 he was sent to New York U. in New York City for 92 weeks of engineering instruction.

Lt. Donald Welflin of Wheeling enjoyed an evening of bowling with Lt. Dan Bittner of Arlington Heights last week. The boys were members of the same graduating class of Arlington Heights high school and just recently learned they were at the same field.

Lt. Bittner is with the 1st Air Force and Lt. Welflin with the 1st Fighter Command. Don also tells of shaking hands with Joe Louis last week, after watching him put on a sparring match at Mitchell Field, New York.

Chicago

Melvin E. Harting, 209 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights, won recognition as a "qualified striker" on the occasion of his recent graduation from the Naval Training School (Radio) located on the campus of the University of Chicago, Chicago.

Who have kept our Flag floatin' on high,
Right from Washington thru to MacArthur
Our Great Generals have never said "Die."

With a handful of men as his Soldiers
General Washington fought on this shore,
Bringin' freedom to God-loving People
Then the Stars and Stripes waved from our Door.

And this proud shining emblem of Glory
Reaching out like a beckoning hand,
Ever welcomes, as friends, weary aliens
Who seek justice and peace in our Land.

In the last war our great Gen'ral Pershing
Led our forces thru dark, war-torn lands
And our Khaki-clad boys turned the Battle
Placing vict-ry in our Allies Hands.

As the hour glass dripped sand thru the eras
Once again trouble came to our shore
And from helpless Friends over the Ocean
Came the Plea that we help them once more.

And our President down in the White House
Heard that call from the Valley of Tears,
So he placed our Boys back in their Khaki
And the time clock turns back many years.

Once again thru those desolate Countries
March these Boys where their Father once trod,
As they pass by—the war weary Natives
Give a cheer and then Murmur, "Thank God."

For they know that our General MacArthur
Will come thru like a Battering Ram
And the same cowards that conquer small Nations
Must again bow to our Uncle Sam.

And long after that hated Swastika
Trails the dust like an old tattered rag,
O'er the Valley and high on the Mountain
Will still wave our American Flag.
